

Ohio Senate Weighs Film Censorship

Bill Calls for End Of 40-Year Control
By Education Dept.

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The days of movie censorship in Ohio may be numbered.

The state department of education has been exercising pre-showing censorship on motion pictures for 40 years.

The Senate Education Committee Monday night heard censorship discussed pro and con on ethical, moral and philosophical grounds. It was part of committee deliberations on a bill repealing the censorship law.

Another meeting was scheduled today. Prospects are the committee will recommend Senate passage. An informal Associated Press poll indicated the Senate vote will be 6-3 in favor of approval.

The bill by Sen. Charles A. Mosher (R-Lorain) will go to the House if it receives Senate approval.

The movie censor hearing came at the end of a legislative day which saw:

The Senate pass and send to the House a bill to cut the required voter percentage on a special tax levy in any election from 60 to 55 per cent. A simple majority rules on school levies and 55 per cent will carry any other levy in general elections under present law. The Senate-approved bill simply cuts the required percentage for non-school levies in primary and special elections.

The House pass and send to the Senate a livestock disease control bill which requires licensing of all commercial livestock dealers and agents and bans return to farms of cattle under 250 pounds purchased for slaughter.

The House receive a resolution calling on the Legislature to permit radio and television broadcasting of General Assembly sessions.

Funds Asked For Survey Of Traffic

Council Sets Hearing On Proposal To Set Aside $6,000

A public hearing for its next meeting was scheduled by Marion City Council Monday night on a proposal to appropriate $6,000 for possible use to pay the city's share of an engineering traffic survey.

The meeting will be held May 11.

Decision to hold the public hearing came after a short discussion in which Don Quaintance, chairman of Council's finance committee, explained the purpose of the proposal. He pointed out this would not mean the actual expenditure of funds, but would set the money aside from the general fund for such use provided the traffic survey materializes.

In other action at Monday night's meeting Council:

Set a second public meeting for Friday night to consider a resolution approving action of the Planning Commission permitting the construction of a new print shop at Tully and Oak Sts.

Heard complaints of residents in the area near the Universal Cooler Division of Tecumseh Steel Products Co. plant concerning smoke from plant boilers, and truck traffic to and from the plant.

Authorized transfer of $13,000 from the general fund to the airport construction fund as a loan until federal funds are available.

Passed an ordinance permitting the safety-service director to purchase four new garbage trucks at a cost of some $26,000.

Passed an ordinance authorizing the safety-service director to enter into a contract with the Marion County Commissioners raising the cost of keeping city prisoners in the county jail from $1.50 a day to $2.50 a day.

Established an additional civilian clerk position in the police department.

Authorized the expenditure of $4,000 for rebuilding of 237 parking meter clocks.

Call for Halt To Fruitless Arguments

Offer Something New Or Talks Will Cease, Communists Told

PANMUNJOM (AP)—U. N. negotiators today threatened to break off the renewed Korean armistice talks unless the Communists come up soon with a concrete proposal for exchanging prisoners—last big obstacle to a truce.

Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison said the U. N. Command "does not intend to become involved in protracted and useless arguments." And he warned the Reds that they "should be well aware that we mean what we say."

Official sources in Washington, however, were said to see a glimmer of hope that the Reds may be moving toward a truce despite today's U. N. threat.

The session at Panmunjom was the third since the negotiations were revived Sunday in an effort to decide what to do with prisoners who refuse to go home.

The Allies asked the Reds to name a neutral state which would assume custody of prisoners unwilling to return to Communist rule, but received no definite answer. The Communists have indicated they might name Red-run Poland or Czechoslovakia, neither

The league now operates with six teams and if the two new applications are approved, could start out next fall with a full eight-team circuit.

Should Marion's application be approved, team members would come from the Cleveland Barons, Frank Foster, chairman of the Coliseum board reported.

A working agreement would be made with the Cleveland club, similar to working agreements between major and minor league baseball teams. Under such agreements in baseball, the major league teams provide the players, often helping to pay their salaries, and in exchange are allowed to call up players they wish for the major league team.

Marion's application to join the league was made through the Cleveland Club. Tony Hemmerling, coach of the Barons, represented the Coliseum at the league meeting. Present teams in the league are Cincinnati, Toledo and Troy, O., Ft. Wayne, Ind., Grand Rapids, Mich., and Milwaukee, Wis. All are ready to go again next winter, the league secretary-treasurer, Fred Huber, reported at the league meeting Sunday.

No action was taken on either application, pending a financial investigation, The Associated Press reported. A final decision may be reached at a meeting in Grand Rapids on June 4.

The board of governors has been making plans to have a hockey team in Marion for more than a month, Foster said today. The application through the Cleveland Barons for a franchise in the IHL was made providing ice equipment can be obtained for the Coliseum.

If plans work out, the Marion team would start play in the IHL next fall.

The hockey season starts in early fall and runs until April. A 31-game schedule is drawn up, with games played at each arena once a week.

The International is one of three hockey leagues. Others are the American and National Leagues.

PTA Safety Patrols Begin

Members of Marion elementary school PTA's began patrolling street crossing in their school districts Monday to assist in protecting children going to and from school.

The patrols, which will supplement the regular student safety patrol program, will be continued until the end of school.

Dangerous crossings are protected morning, noon and afternoon by the parents, who volunteered to assist after becoming alarmed at the number of children struck by automobiles recently.

The adults wear sashes with the words "PTA Safety" on them.

Candidates appearing on the program will answer the question, "What in your opinion is the next step for progress in the city of Marion."

Candidates and voters will be welcomed to the meeting by Mrs. Robert Axe, president of the Marion League. Striking the keynote and introducing the "question of the evening" will be Mrs. Robert W. Fay, and introducing the individual candidates will be Mrs. Norman Winslow.

Following the brief talks by the candidates, members of the audience will have the opportunity to ask the speakers questions.

Real Estate Board Supports Magnetic Springs Foundation

After hearing Dr. Kenneth Keever, president of the Magnetic Springs Foundation, speak about his plans for a clinic and rehabilitation center for polio patients, members of the Marion Real Estate Board Monday unanimously voted to join other organizations in sponsoring the Foundation's fund drive.

In addition, Board members volunteered to assist other local organizations in backing the project, and will request Real Estate Boards throughout the state to join them in the project.

Dr. Keever was a practicing physician in Richwood until three years ago when he decided to devote his life to the care of polio patients after his daughter contracted the disease.

To this end, he gave up his practice and went to the Warm Springs Foundation in Warm Springs, Ga., to study the treatment of polio patients.

Upon his return to Richwood last fall, he decided to establish a "Warm Springs of the North" at the Park Hotel in Magnetic Springs.

In January the Magnetic Springs Foundation was organized and this month launched a $250,000 campaign to raise funds to put the treatment center in operation.

On the local scene, the Board will contact each member for contributions to the fund which it will then turn over to the treasurer of the Foundation. The Board will also act as a clearinghouse for other local contributions, as well as for state Board contributions.

Serving on the local Board committee for this project are Joe Davis, Wilson Jones, and Harold Cook. Presiding at Monday's luncheon-meeting was the Board's president, Lowell Douce.

Accompanying Dr. Keever to Marion were the Foundation's attorney, Robert F. Allen, and two Richwood supporters of the project, Paul M. Curl and A. O. Grooms.

City Recreation Leader Picked Huffman, Coach At Meeker, Appointed

Hired as the summer recreational director for this city at a meeting of the recreation commission Monday night was Walker J. Huffman, coach at the Meeker School, who lives near LaRue. He was chosen from a group of four applicants who submitted plans for the program of recreation which will be carried on from June through August at Lincoln Park. The commission in charge is comprised of Dr. D. W. Brickley, Harold F. Henry, and Robert T. Mason.

Huffman, 27, who is married and has two children, will be assisted in his program for the summer by a man and two women chosen from college students returning to Marion for the summer. Applications for these jobs are to be sent by letter to the recreation commission in care of the mayor's office. A strong centralized program at Lincoln Park was decided on for this year in preference to activities at the four parks as last year's plan called for.

The new director, besides coaching, has had experience in directing Boy Scout camp activities at Zanesville, he was recreation director on an LST in World War II, and received a degree in education, majoring in health and physical education, at Ohio State University in 1951. His actual summer recreation work will start June 8.

Senate sessions around the clock, beginning at 11 a. m. today.

After 19 days—and quite a few nights—of Senate debate, the opponents still refused to agree to a date for a final vote.

Taft said this showed "a determination to continue the filibuster."

Arrangements were made to keep a quorum of 49 senators present at all times. Cots were ordered for senatorial catnaps in the cloakrooms.

The test of strength came on a Taft motion late yesterday to "lay on the table," and thereby kill a federal control substitute by Sen. Anderson (D-NM) to which had been added the "oil for education" amendment of Sen. Hill (D-Ala). Thirty-eight Republicans and 18

Received petitions of merchants and church members asking that parking be restored to the south side of Church St.

Tabled an ordinance authorizing the Park Board to advertise for bids for the leasing of city owned land for use as a ball diamond by Little League Baseball.

Sent back to committee an ordinance changing the sewer use fee to be charged the Baker Wood Preserving Co., and a resolution establishing the location of school-hours traffic lights.

Would Make Funds Available

In the discussion on the proposed traffic survey, Quaintance pointed out that setting $6,000 aside does not obligate the city to spend the money for the survey. Purpose of the ordinance, he said, is only to make the money available providing an additional $14,000 can be raised from other sources.

The plan for financing the survey was proposed by the Chamber of Commerce several weeks ago. The plan calls for the Chamber to raise some $12,000 by public donations and for another $2,000 to be furnished by the Marion County Commissioners.

Purpose of the fund would be to hire professional traffic engineers to map out the needs of the city in the order of their importance and

Home Show Continues To Draw Crowds

The fourth annual Home and Better Living Show sponsored by the Marion Exchange Club continued to break records Monday night at the Coliseum.

According to Harold M. Gram of Springfield, show director, a total of 1,700 persons attended the Monday night session from 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.

Gram said crowds are running about 30 per cent higher than last year. The show opened Sunday with an estimated 3,100 attending afternoon and evening sessions.

The show continues until Wednesday with sessions from 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. tonight and Wednesday night.

This year's show is the biggest ever with 36 merchants having displays in 82 booths. Products for the home and sports equipment as well as many other items are on display.

John Salisbury, chairman of the show, lauded the work of Marion Exchange Club members. He explained all club members were helping to run the show, as well as many of the members' wives. The club has 34 active members.

Un Forced Repatriation

WASHINGTON (AP)—A faint, fresh glimmer of hope that the Communists may actually be moving toward a truce in Korea has been found by officials here in the latest Red proposals for dealing with prisoners of war.

This feeling was not substantially changed by the United Nations threat to suspend the talks once again unless the Communists produce a constructive solution.

In the latest Red proposals, presented to the U. N. Command yesterday, the Communists appeared for the first time to recognize officially that some prisoners held by the U. N. may never be willing to go home to Red China or Korea.

If this interpretation is correct, and if the Reds are willing to act on it, no matter how warily, in further negotiations, it may be a key to the future of the truce talks. In any event it was regarded here today as good reason for going on with the meetings despite wide differences.

References to the existence or possible existence of POWs in U.N. hands who will never voluntarily accept repatriation appear at least by implication in two sections of the Red proposals.

In one it is suggested that after prisoners who initially refuse repatriation have been turned over to a neutral state all those "who request repatriation shall be sent home within a period of six months. This implies that the Reds recognize some prisoners will not request repatriation.

Again, the Red proposals say that if after the six months period "there are still prisoners of war in the custody of the neutral state, their fate should be decided at a proposed political conference on the future of Korea.

The essence of the POW deadlock is that the U. N. Command insists no prisoners should be forcibly sent home. According to State Department information, about 38,000 prisoners taken from the North Korean and Chinese Red armies have declared that they would resist repatriation. The Reds have been contending all prisoners should be returned.

The first break in efforts to find a way out of the deadlock came several weeks ago. The Red high command then proposed that any prisoners who refused to go home immediately after an armistice should be turned over to a neutral state. But at that time the Reds went on the official assumption that all these recalcitrants, when they had been given assurances of good treatment in their homelands, would be ready to return.

U. S. officials found no evidence of any acceptance by the Reds of the idea that some of their former soldiers would not be willing to go home at all. That is what makes the present interpretation of the new proposals potentially quite important.

As to the specific provisions of this latest Red plan, official here, like the U. N. negotiators in Korea, consider these on the whole unacceptable, especially in three respects:

1. The Reds would require nine months from the time an armistice became effective until the prisoners placed in the hands of a neutral state were considered to be finally divided between those who were willing to go home and those who were not. The U. S. reaction is that this prolongs the period of captivity unreasonably.

2. The Red demand that the fate of the expatriate captives should be decided by a political conference. The basic American and U. N. position has been that they should be set free as quickly as possible with some provision made for their welfare.

3. The idea put forth by the Reds that the prisoners who are not willingly repatriated in Korea after the fighting ends should be sent to the neutral state instead of being placed in its custody on the Korean islands where they now are. The objection here is based on the time and effort which would be required for transporting them.

Manslaughter Charges Face Kenton Mother

May Be Filed Today After Funeral For Her 2-Year-Old Son

Special to The Star

KENTON—Charges of first degree manslaughter are expected to be filed today against Mrs. Wilma Shaw, 24, who has admitted to authorities that she kicked her two-year-old son, Donald, to death. Filing of the charges will probably take place following funeral services for the child this afternoon, Prosecuting Attorney Paul N. McKinley said.

The mother of three and her husband, Richard, stated in signed confessions that she struck the youngster and kicked him several times when he fell to the floor. The beating was brought on about noon Saturday by an argument between Mrs. Shaw and her husband, Prosecuting Attorney Paul N. McKinley and Hardin County Sheriff Clarence F. Brown reported. Mrs. Shaw said that the child always seemed to love his father more than he did her.

Shaw said he was in the kitchen of which would be acceptable to the U. N. Command. The Communists rejected Switzerland.

The full five-member delegations met for 39 minutes and will meet again Wednesday at 11 a. m.

They were deadlocked on three main points:

1. The neutral state to handle balking prisoners.

2. The length of time after an armistice necessary for disposal of prisoners.

3. Whether prisoners will be shipped to the neutral state or be held in Korea while their fate is decided.

North Korean Gen. Nam Il offered nothing new in a lengthy statement Tuesday.

"It was nothing in the world but a rehash of what was said before," Harrison told newsmen.

Nam once more called for debate on deciding the neutral state and he described the six-point proposal he advanced at the opening session Sunday as reasonable.

This proposal called for repatriating within two months after an armistice prisoners wanting to go home, and for sending to a neutral state those refusing repatriation. Within the following six months, representatives of Red China and North Korea would be permitted to visit the prisoners in neutral custody and give them "explanations" to quiet their "apprehensions" about returning home.

The United Nations Command insisted that the nine months or more required to dispose of the prisoners is too long and proposed the situation be handled in two months.

The Communist proposal also provides that even after the nine months the fate of prisoners still refusing to go home would be decided by a high-level postarmistice political conference.

Harrison again told the Reds Tuesday that their proposal was neither reasonable nor constructive.

Govt. Drops Suit Against Oil Firms

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government today formally dropped a criminal anti-trust proceeding against major oil companies but left the way open to re-instate it later if it decides that should be done.

Leonard J. Emmerglick, a special assistant to Attorney General Brownell, moved in U. S. District Court to drop the proceeding which was begun during the administration of former President Truman.

Emmerglick said Brownell wanted to make it clear a criminal proceeding would be started anew if warranted by facts developed in a civil anti-trust proceeding against five big companies.

He said only that gun carrying is somewhat barbaric and that for an officer to go unarmed is "just a matter of progress."

Ike's Loyalty Program

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's new security order should give the government better protection. Time will show whether it also gives the individual government employee better protection.

The Truman administration had two programs: (1) loyalty — to bounce people of questionable loyalty; and (2) security—to weed out security risks: people whose loyalty was not questioned but who might spill secrets.

The loyalty program applied to all government employees. The security program covered only those with big secrets, like the State and Defense Departments and the Atomic Energy Commission.

The new Eisenhower move telescopes the loyalty and security programs into one. It covers all government employees, no matter how "insensitive" the agency where they work, on loyalty and security.

In doing this the administration has made some changes in the way people in both groups are to be handled to make it easier to get rid of people it decides can't be trusted to work for the government.

The best way to understand the new program is to compare it with the old.

The old loyalty program: A man of questionable loyalty was given a hearing by a board made up of officials from his own agency. If it recommended he be fired, the head of the agency or department could do so. Then the man could appeal to the Loyalty Review Board, men specially appointed by the President. If the board found the man loyal, he kept his job.

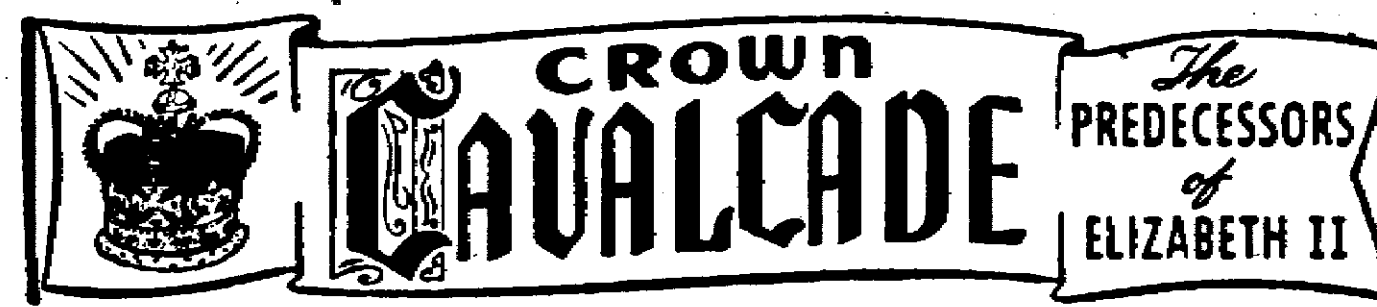

At these hearings the accused man was entitled to counsel and to get a copy of the charges against him, in writing. There wasn't one case in 1,000 where this man was told who his accusers were. The government didn't have to tell him. So he got no chance to cross-examine witnesses against him.

The Eisenhower loyalty program:

The Loyalty Review Board goes out of existence in seven months, long enough to clear up pending business. It can't take on new cases. Thus the head of an agency or department now has the last word. A man he fired on loyalty grounds stays fired, with no appeal. He gets a hearing before a board set up by his department head but made up of men from other agencies.

At all stages he's entitled to be represented by counsel and, as under the old program, gets a copy of the charges against him. And, the Eisenhower order says, he "can" be told who his accusers are and can cross-examine them. But since the order doesn't say this "must" be done, it probably won't.

The old security program: The top Loyalty Review Board had nothing to do with security risk cases. The man under investigation didn't have to be told the charges against him. He could get a hearing by a board in his own

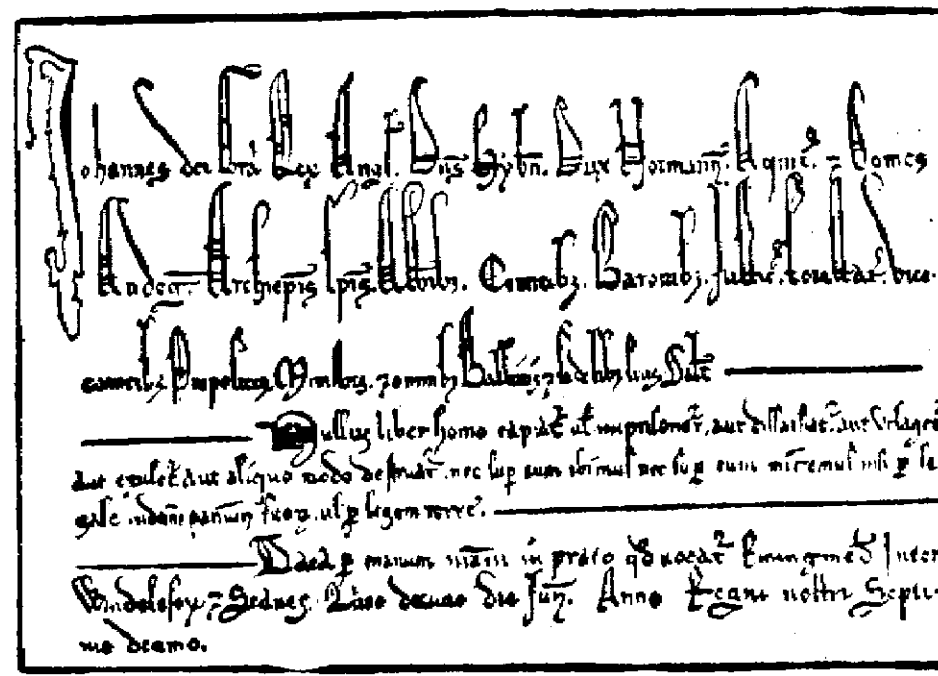

No. 8: John [J]. Ruled England 1199-1216.

Born: 1167, youngest of six sons of Henry II and Eleanor of Aquitaine. Not John, but his nephew, Arthur of Brittany, should have followed Richard I to the throne. John prevented this by having Arthur imprisoned during an uprising. Arthur vanished and it is assumed that John had him murdered. John was always in some kind of trouble—war with France, a quarrel with the Pope, endless disputes with the English barons, difficulties with the Scotch and Irish. Results were the loss of Normandy by the Plantagenets after a century of joint rule with England, and the forced submission by John to the barons under the terms of the Magna Carta. The latter is frequently stated to have been the keystone of English civil liberties, but this interpretation is debatable. John's reign came to an end in a civil war during which Prince Louis of France invaded England. Englishmen loyally rose and defeated Louis at Lincoln. Loss of the royal treasure (including the crown itself), which fell into the sea when being moved for safety's sake, so overcame John that he died within a few days. In the war with France, England's navy won its first notable victory.

Great seal of John. Facsimile (→) of opening lines of the Magna Carta, or Great Charter, which John was forced to sign in 1215. The document granted certain rights to each of the three classes—clergy, baronage, people. It underwent many modifications in following reigns.

TOMORROW: Henry III

agency and then be fired by his agency head and he had no appeal.

But only 10 government agencies or departments were covered by the Truman security program. In those places which dealt in secrets a man might be considered loyal but a bad security risk if he drank too much, talked too much, or, among other examples, was a homosexual who might be blackmailed into giving secrets.

The Eisenhower security order: Now every government employee, no matter where he works, can be fired on security grounds. He, too, has no appeal if the agency heads fires him. If suspended while under

Boiler Blast Kills 11 On U.S. Carrier

GUANTANAMO, Cuba (AP)—A boiler accident aboard the U. S. aircraft carrier Bennington killed 11 American seamen and injured four others, U. S. Navy officials reported last night.

Names of the dead and injured were withheld pending notification of the next of kin.

The accident occurred while the 27,000-ton Essex class flattop was operating of Guantanamo Bay, one of the Navy's principal bases in the Caribbean Area. The warship later was pulled alongside the base docks.

Navy officials here said details of the accident would have to come from the Navy Department in Washington but up to an early hour today there had been no further word from there.

In their first announcement last night, Navy spokesmen in Washington said the full extent of the damage had not yet been determined.

The Bennington, launched Feb. 1944, carries a normal complement of 2,900 officers and men.

The accident occurred yesterday.

Three Dimension TV to Be Tested

WASHINGTON (AP)—Now it's television's turn to try out three-dimensional images.

The Federal Communications Commission yesterday authorized American Broadcasting-Paramount Theaters, Inc., to make public tests.

As in the recently introduced 3-D movies, the system to be tested at KECA-TV in Los Angeles requires special equipment and glasses to be worn by viewers. The tests will end May 15.

investigation, he would get a copy of the charges against him. But he wouldn't be allowed to cross-examine any accusers, or even learn who they were.

Under Truman a man considered a security risk in a certain job could be transferred to another, non-sensitive job in the same agency. Or, if he was fired as a security risk in one agency, he might be able to get a job in an agency not handling secrets.

Under Eisenhower's security order, covering all agencies, a man still could be transferred to a non-sensitive job or get a job in another agency, but under definite limitations.

Now each agency head will decide what jobs are sensitive, what national security is, and what a security risk is. This is pretty great latitude.

It's assumed that anyone fired as a security risk will be a real risk to national security and will not be fired on some trivial ground thought up by an agency head.

Tractor No Match For Elephant

BLUEFIELD, W. Va. (AP) — An official of a local machinery firm dreamed up the idea of matching the pulling power of a modern tractor with the muscles of a circus elephant.

They were hitched back to back. The tractor didn't have a chance. Jumbo dragged the sputtering machine all around the lot.

Charges Operations Threatened

Lamneck Blasts Cut In Welfare Budget

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — The state welfare department director today called for increased appropriations for his department and said failure to obtain additional funds would curtail operations at newly completed facilities.

In a letter to Gov. Frank J. Lausche and to members of the General Assembly, John H. Lamneck said current appropriation bills now before the House fall far short of taking care of Ohio's needs.

Lamneck blasted a three-million dollar cut in salaries for executives and institutional personnel recommended by some legislators. He said a cut from the present level of 24½ million dollars would make the welfare department reduce the ration of employees to patients to a crucially low level or postpone the opening of new facilities.

New welfare department facilities completed or about to be completed include state hospitals at Cambridge, Columbus, Dayton, Lima and Toledo State Hospital, Orient State, the Bureau of Juvenile Research at Columbus, the Ohio Reformatory for Women at Marysville, the Hamilton and Scioto Receiving Hospitals, and the Hawthornden State Hospital.

One bill before the House would provide 29½ million for salaries for the coming fiscal year. Lamneck said this bill would provide sufficient funds to maintain the present standard of one employee for every 4.5 patients, provided the present 48-hour work week is continued. He said the bill would enable the welfare department to open the new facilities, to fill 574 existing staff vacancies and hire 500 new employees.

The welfare department's budget request to the governor called for enough money to provide for 8,022 employees for 35,720 patients, or one for 4.45 patients in state mental institutions except for receiving hospitals.

The director called inadequate expenditures for maintenance, food and medical care. He said a bill before the House contemplates maintenance of wards in mental institutions at the rate of $2.59 per day, including the cost of clothes, upkeep, medical and hospital services.

"Over 30,000 in our wards are sick people and need hospital care," Lamneck said. "To maintain such patients in a ward in a general hospital would cost from $15 to $20 per day and this does not include any cost for the services of physicians."

Lack of Money Wins Extra Leave Time for GIs

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Sometimes it pays not to have money. Anyway, 23 soldiers got unexpected leave time Monday because they didn't have enough money to get them back to Fort Lewis, Wash.

The GIs, all from Ohio and Pennsylvania, were part of a group of 40 who chartered a Capital Airways plane for $113 each to fly home on 14-day furloughs.

Due back at 5 p. m. today, the soldiers were stranded at Greater Pittsburgh airport when 17 of the men failed to show up. The rest lacked the extra $50 each demanded by the airline. The provost marshal here issued special passes and explained the delay to the men's outfits. They will take other transportation back to Fort Lewis.

Model Legislature OKs Bills Introduced by Marion Group

Four Marion students set something of a record at the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y sponsored "model Legislature" held in the State Capitol Building at Columbus Friday through Sunday.

One of the four was elected recording clerk of the Senate and both "bills" drafted by the Marion Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs and submitted by the four delegates were passed by the model Senate.

Robert Knachel of 222 S. Grand Ave. was one of five students competing for clerk of the Senate. Running a close second to Lois Bricker of East Palestine, he became recording clerk and she was named clerk.

With a total of only 35 bills passed during the three-day session out of some 68 submitted, the two Marion bills passed in the Senate were among the 20 which were later endorsed by the boy governor, Walter Gundel of Massillon.

One of them, providing for the establishment of a state-supported hospital for chronic alcoholics, was Number 4 on the Senate agenda. It passed by a vote of 18 to 14.

The other was Number 12 on the Senate agenda and provided for the compulsory yearly inspection of motor vehicles for defects. It passed by a wide margin of 19 to 5.

Another 33 bills introduced by Hi-Y or Tri-Hi-Y students from throughout the state failed to pass in either the Senate or House of Representatives or both.

More than 400 student delegates attended the three-day Youth and Government Program. Called a "citizenship education project" of the Ohio-West Virginia area council of the YMCA and the YMCA's of Ohio, this was the second annual model legislature held in Columbus.

During the session the youths heard talks by a number of high state officials including Gov. Lausche, Lt. Gov. John W. Brown, C. William O'Neill, attorney general, William Saxbe, speaker of the House, and Carl V. Weygandt, chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court.

The other delegates from Marion were Carol Sparks of 789 Bexley Ave., Marion County representative John White of 399 Mary St., 13th-31st District senator; and Gilbert Herr of 1157 E. Church St.

They were elected to their positions at a pre-legislative training session held at Bowling Green University in February at which time Knachel was also named a nominee for the clerk position.

The two "bills" submitted by the Marion group were written by the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs with the adult assistance of Juvenile Judge Edward J. Ruzzo, Robert A. Kelly, Marion attorney, and Mrs. Doris Maxwell, Marion Family Service Society director.

The four delegates were accompanied to Columbus by Marvin Ludwig, Boys' Work secretary of the Marion YMCA. He also served as one of two advisors in the Senate.

Humphrey's Reassurance

Treasury Secretary Humphrey's reassurance last week that Americans have "no reason to fear peace" — that we are not headed for a depression — is still echoing throughout the country. It may be doubted that he realized his statement would get so much attention.

What might have been just another remark by another spokesman for the Eisenhower administration was blown into a major declaration by two explosive circumstances.

First is the prestige which Secretary Humphrey has acquired inside the government; he is its foremost economic spokesman.

Second, and harder to comprehend, is delayed public realization that the Eisenhower administration is prepared to defend a hard-money policy against the sniping of soft-money inflationists.

These people will try to make it appear as the first sign of economic readjustment that the United States is starting into a depression. This would be an excuse for them to revive the experiments with creeping socialism which were discredited by defeat of the Truman administration.

Some would go farther back than creeping socialism and whoop up their depression-days agitation for political revolution. This is the kind of blackmail the Eisenhower administration can expect if its hard-money policy does not appease leftists.

The Humphrey declaration that the administration is not afraid of them and will not be panicked into appeasement is being repeated in every corner of the country. The United States cannot have a war boom forever. Sooner or later, it must quit cheapening money by spending the priceless lives of its sons.

Treasury Secretary Humphrey now knows how desperately his countrymen wanted to hear someone in authority say it will not be economically fatal to have peace. The Eisenhower administration honestly hopes to deliver what it promised voters last November — the end of the war boom which began in 1939.

Munich Parallel

British Again Heading Into Appeasement Trap

It begins to look as if Moscow is playing the United States and the other nations in the free world for suckers. The tip-off in the Soviet chess game is the publication of the recent speech of President Eisenhower and the significant comment along with it in "Pravda," that Russia, too, has her "claims and ideas of what should be done."

Every one of the Eisenhower points was met in the officially inspired Soviet press with the usual Communist rebuttals.

This reflects the plan of the Soviet government to overcome war fears and strengthen a weak internal situation by starting "discussions" which may last two or three years.

Meanwhile, the Allies will be influenced by a peace-hungry public opinion to follow a namby-pamby policy of watchful waiting and reduced armament building.

The Soviets are so sure they have the free world in a trap that even while Mr. Eisenhower and the other statesmen call for "Deeds, not Words," the Communist-supplied armies in the last few days have boldly crossed the boundaries of Laos, an independent kingdom in Southeast Asia, thus perpetrating a new aggression before the eyes of the whole world.

Moscow guessed right — both Washington and London were too impressed by the "peace maneuvers" to risk any denunciation of what happened in Laos.

The Soviets play their chess game well. Undoubtedly they are being guided by Douglas MacLean, the British diplomat, who after serving a long time at the British Embassy in Washington, then was assigned to take charge of the all-important "American desk" in the London Foreign Office through which all confidential cables flowed daily. When he disappeared behind the Iron Curtain a year and a half ago, Secretary Acheson exclaimed, "My God, he knew everything."

What MacLean knows basically is the weakness and vulnerability of the Allied position on the diplomatic side, particularly the situation in Britain where a wedge has been successfully driven between the Washington and London viewpoints, though it has looked recently as if Washington was beginning to succumb to the London concept of peace-at-any-price.

No inference of lack of courage need be drawn from the trend of British diplomatic policy. It is rather an obsession in London that if Asia is written off and any opposition to America's policy in Korea, the Soviet diplomats are pressing for a general peace conference where they are confident those differences will be accentuated, or where the American government is expected to capitulate in the face of a United European demand.

So the Russians have everything to gain and nothing to lose by long-drawn-out negotiations. They know, too, that the American-British cry of "Deeds, not Words" is just rhetoric, because the American and British governments are going to sit down anyway with the Communists, no matter whether any "Deeds" are really forthcoming. Churchill is so eager he is reported to be ready to fly to Moscow at a moment's notice.

As for the "Deeds," the Soviets will sacrifice a few pawns in their chess game — pieces that are not too important because they will strengthen the other pieces or factors in the game to which they will hold on.

Thus, knowing the psychology of the peace-craving free world, Russia's proposal to exchange a few sick and wounded prisoners has already brought a wide demand for peace talks. This is what the Soviets call a "Deed."

They may even agree — for a price — to stop the fighting in Korea, knowing full well that they can frustrate the main objective of the war from the Allied side, which has been to get a "united Korea."

This objective has already been discarded by the British who are willing to agree to a "divided Korea." Also the British are willing, if other terms are met, to admit Red China into the United Nations, whereas Washington is not.

This is typical of the opportunities for dissension which the Soviets welcome.

The peace palavers will go on indefinitely, the Soviets will gain valuable time to manufacture more atomic bombs, Moscow will then take the risk of further aggression and will assume that the free world will remain pacifistic.

Such aggression will inevitably be met with force when the free world is disillusioned, and then the third world war will come just as surely as the bombardment of Poland came after the appeasement at Munich.

Events are drifting according to historical precedent and that could mean large-scale war within three years, though the exact length of the interval may have to be meas-

Waiting for The Unveiling

Education Plus Public Service

By Raymond Moley

Three years ago, I had the pleasure of speaking before a group of students at the University of Texas. It seemed to me that a number of members of the group showed an unusual interest in and grasp of public affairs.

After the lecture, I met with some of them and discovered what was to me a wholly unique way they had of working their way through school. They were members of the state legislature and at the same time students in the law school of the university at Austin.

A check on this extraordinary practice reveals that this year there are 11 such student legislators. All but one are in the law school. All are in the lower house of the legislature. They come from counties scattered well over the Speaker Sam Rayburn got his start there.

The constituents of these students get service from zestful, intelligent young men. An ambition to do well for the home town or country is sharpened by the fact that most of these embryonic lawyers intend to return there to practice.

And education gets a touch of realism from this contact that it could get in no other way.

The example of these young men might well be pondered by students everywhere. It is a regrettable fact that a concern for politics and public service is altogether rare among American college men and women.

In three institutions in separate states I have, during the past winter, questioned a number of students about their attitude toward participation in politics. The reaction was shocking, indifferent.

Some said politics were too "dirty" for them. Others said they would be too busy to "bother" with politics. Others were, to be frank, too ignorant of the elementary facts of government to be of any use, even had they possessed the desire.

This is a true but grim commentary on American education and, to a degree, on the home training of these indifferent students.

The Texas plan is in refreshing contrast.

prisoner repatriation stalls Korean trace again, an easy way out was revealed by the recent exchange of sick and wounded prisoners. No one bothered to ask the 5,800 men sent home to North Korea and China because they were sick or wounded whether they wanted to go.

They were sent. Some of them, according to news dispatches, weren't happy about it, either. They showed their displeasure by tearing their new clothes and refusing to eat.

Barring the possibility they did these things because they were trouble-makers and were being repatriated to get rid of them, they may not have leaped with joy because they wanted to stay where they were.

The issue of whether or not a North Korean or a Chinese should be given a chance to pass up repatriation was raised as a propaganda device to encourage wholesale Red surrendering and to keep faith with men who had surrendered to escape from Communist control. Its propaganda value must be exhausted by this time. In any event, the principle was abandoned when sick prisoners were sent home without any ideological hair-splitting.

Steel's Breaking Point

The trade journal of the industry, Steel Magazine, has begun to remind its reader of the imminence of a declining demand for steel. This subject will be discussed more freely in other quarters from now on.

Unionized steel workers will discuss it. Managers of the steel industry will discuss it. The general public will discuss it. Steel is the key industry in this country. The stabilization of its prices and costs would have a tremendous impact on other industries.

When demand was forcing its prices upward and they were being pushed in that direction by collective bargaining, steel set the economic pace for price inflation. Union negotiators will try at least one more upward push. Steel management, itself, has been talking about another price increase.

But prices are determined ultimately by demand. Steel inventories have been fattening up. Even the supposedly insatiable demand of the auto industry has its limits, and they will be in sight long before Labor Day. One major auto manufacturer has cut list prices to stimulate demand, and the others will follow suit when they need a stimulus. And it is no secret that the steel industry's postwar expansion has put it into a position of being able to lop off its least efficient productive capacity when competition toughens up.

The steel industry has been shut down at three-year intervals since 1943, while its workers took advantage of public demand for steel. Strikes have been held in 1943, 1946, 1949 and 1952, all of them successful in the sense that prices and wages increased.

In 1953, prices and wages must reckon with a new fact. For the first time since the beginning of World War II, the end of an insatiable demand for steel is in sight.

Among those to whom our heart goes out are the nation's cartoonists, tearing up sketch after sketch in which Georgi Malenkov keeps coming out cute and cuddly.

kind of peace is made there, the Allies will be freed to build up their defenses and America will spend more money in Europe.

The story is going around Washington, for instance, that at a private dinner given by Gen. Collins, chief of staff of the U.S. Army, in honor of Viscount Montgomery, the British field marshal—who is deputy military commander of NATO—told the high-ranking guests bluntly that if the American government insisted on carrying the war further in Korea it would find itself alone bearing 100 per cent of the burden; that it could not expect any help from Britain, and that he thought the American people wouldn't go along either.

At this, Representative Short, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee who was at the dinner, is reported to have remarked that he thought he understood somewhat better the feelings of the American people, and since they were today bearing 95 per cent of the burden in Korea, he didn't think they would object to carrying 100 per cent if that became necessary.

There is no doubt that what Field Marshal Montgomery said privately is no secret in London. Everyone there knows that the British government wants the Korean War ended on the principal terms laid down by the Red Chinese, or the Moscow government, as the case may be, because of a belief that this is the way to get more manpower and money to strengthen Europe's defenses.

Knowing that the government of Great Britain and British public opinion are almost unanimous in ured by the time the Allies will give Moscow to build up her machinery and needed raw materials.

Already the true purpose of the "peace talks" can be seen clearly—it is to open up East and West trade which, unfortunately, the British are eager to do. They supplied munitions to Hitler up to a month before he declared war in 1939, and have forgotten already that they furnished—as did America to Japan before 1941—the metals that later helped to kill and maim noncombatants and troops of the free world in World War II.

The alternative to all this was clearly given by Gen. MacArthur in his letter to Sen. Byrd, made public over the weekend. It provides a definite, positive policy of resoluteness with an announced threat to use maximum power in Korea unless our terms are met now.

The headlines tell the story of what happened to MacArthur's proposal—the peace-at-any-price sentiment is so strong that sharp denunciation of his suggestions has come from many sides as "rocking-the-goat," or "throwing a monkey wrench" into the so-called "peace" parleys.

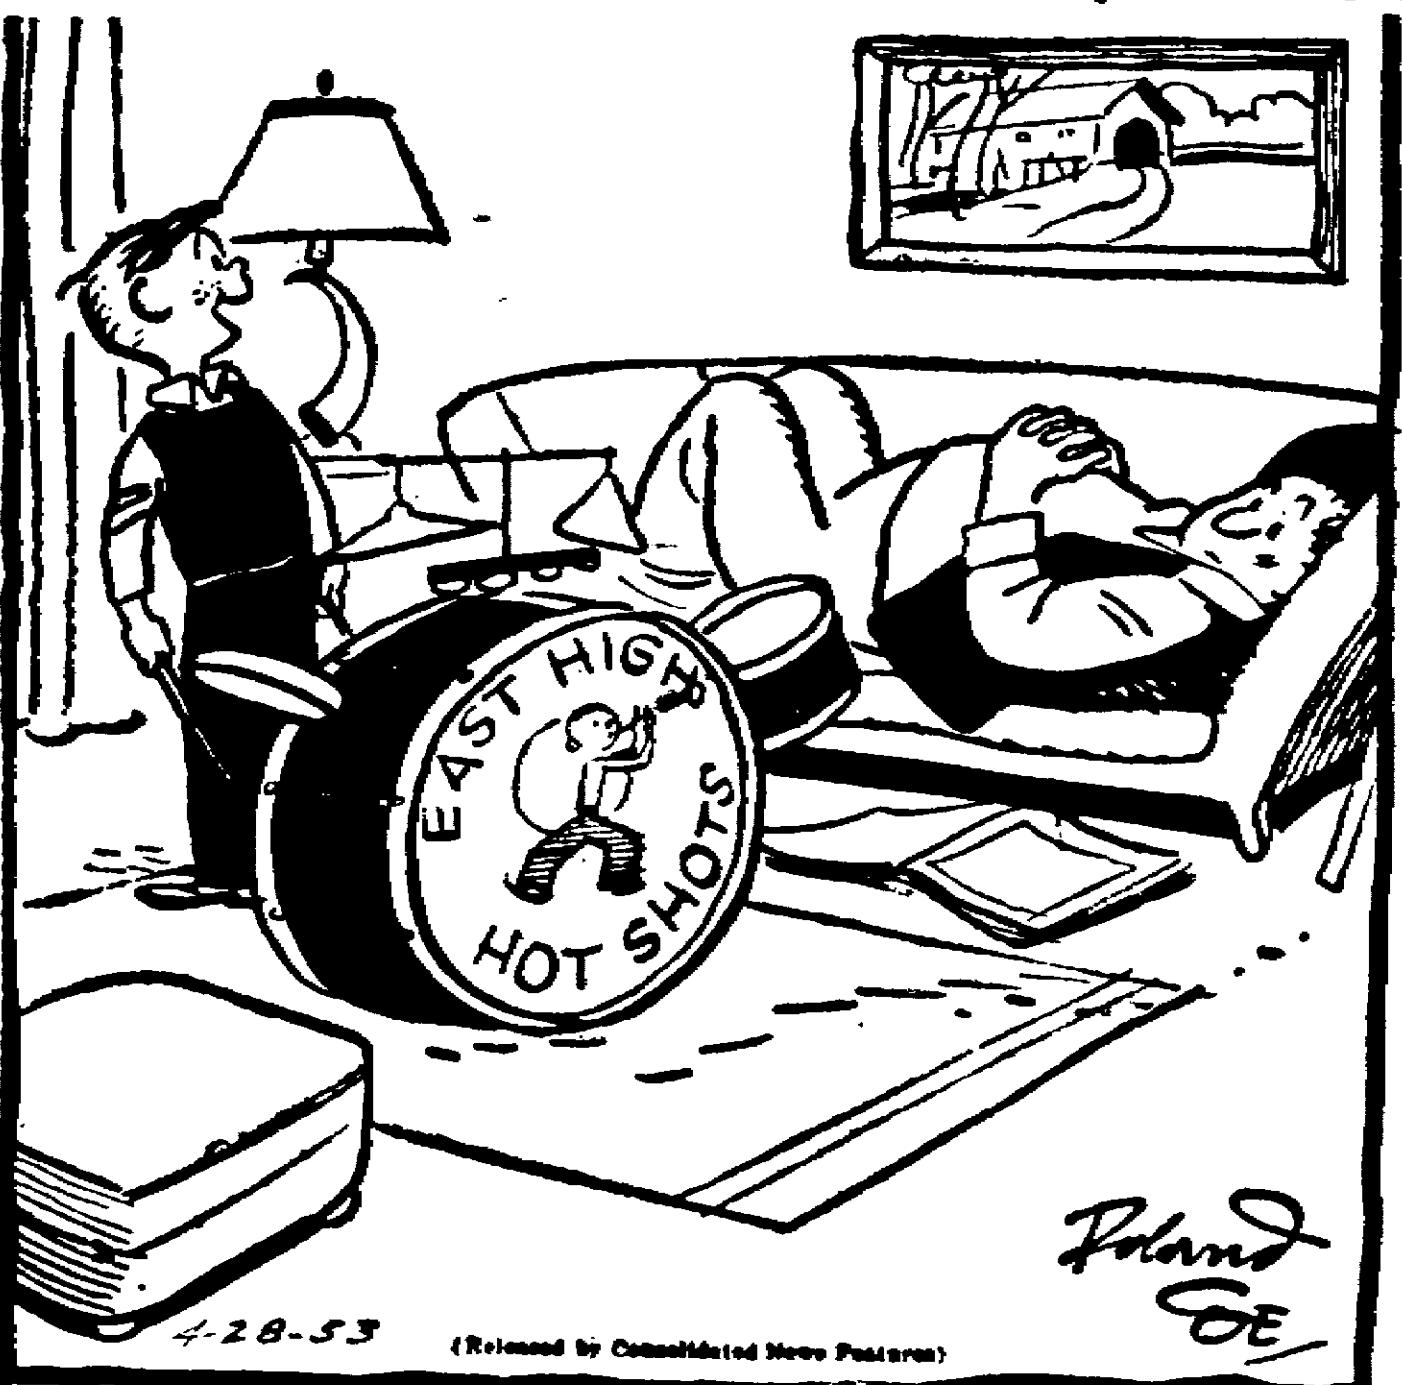

Some day the history books will pick up the MacArthur message of 1953 just as they now pick up the warnings given by Churchill and Eden in the '30's when the Chamberlain government pursued the fatal course of appeasement that encouraged Hitler to risk war.

It's odd that as yet Churchill and Eden do not see the peril in today's parallel.

The more this practice is examined, the more it commends itself. In the first place, it provides these men with a livelihood while they are getting an education.

The lower house of the Texas Legislature is composed of 150 members. The pay is $10 a day for the first 120 days of a session. If they sit beyond that, the pay goes down to $5 a day. Presumably certain other expenses are paid.

The legislature meets in odd-numbered years, with occasional special sessions.

The university and the capitol are, of course, in the same city, Austin, and they are practically adjacent.

The student-legislators are getting much more, however, than a lift with their expenses. They are adding to their formal schooling a magnificent practical background.

Al Smith used to say that the New York Legislature was his only school, but it was a good one. These Texas boys are getting what Al got, plus. For practically all the multitudinous problems of a state come sooner or later into review in a legislature.

The Texas Legislature provides a range that few states possess. It has always been a training-school for men who have gone far in political life. Among others, ex-

Eternal Mysteries

By TRUMAN TWILL

Among the eternal mysteries I'll never understand are these:

What happens to the millions of Tinker-Toy sets given to youngsters every Christmas and which have disappeared by July;

Why women should be forced to undergo every few years a change of styles which makes them look like freaks;

How so many thousands of people who would know enough to sidestep a confidence game can be taken in year after year by wrestling exhibitions;

Who does the deep-dish thinking which fouls up truce negotiations for winding up the Korean war;

Why it never has dawned on the alert minds of a great many important personages in the business world that statistics about earnings and taxes are meaningless unless they deal with dollars of identical value;

Who gets into and out of any automobile of recent manufacture without popping a scaro-iliac or spraining a tendon;

What makes it possible to spend so much money on public-school education without enabling more than a fraction of its beneficiaries to speak passably good English and write an understandable statement;

From whence came the unsupported idea that things are better after an investigation;

Whether higher education if something is not done to check the trend toward giving degrees for proficiency in things which once would have been taken care of under apprenticeship training and trade schools;

Where assurance come from in the season just past, that the same breed of basketballers who took bribes last season weren't taking bribes this season;

What is the purpose in so many new houses of view windows which do not disclose a view of anything;

Who will back all those dollars borrowed during inflation if money begins to be worth something like its own value again;

What sense there is in listening to speeches read by men who can't read, about things they did not write about;

What satisfaction anyone can have from making derogatory comments about the dead;

Why it is considered stylish to equip most glasses-wearers with the unattractive robot-like contraptions which are now in vogue;

How any designer with pride in his work could hold still for as brazen an affront to good design as a fender skirt on an automobile;

The leathery composition of the tongues of men who are able to puff contentedly on tobacco pipes year after year;

The chronological alertness which makes it necessary for people to wear and consult watches all the time;

The finicky appetites of people who cannot bear the thought of anything to eat at breakfast-time, except toast and coffee;

The idea, growing in popularity in recent years, that the way to fight a dictatorship is to become more like a dictatorship, instead of more like a republic.

News of Other Years

TEN YEARS AGO — It was Wednesday, April 28, 1943.

American troops stormed three fiercely defended hills straddling the road to Mateur and Bizerte and the British First army battled for a commanding height at Medjerda village, 21 miles west of Tunis.

Litigation Goes to State Supreme Court Twice

Legal Issues Delay Start of Ohio's Turnpike

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Everything looked rosy for early construction of a toll superhighway across Northern Ohio when Ohio's turnpike law became effective in 1949. No one dreamed the project still would be embroiled in legal struggles three and one-half years later. Here, in the second of a three-part series, is a simplified version of the play-by-play.)

By ART PARKS

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—A couple of guys named Joe—in all respects as widely separated as the poles—threw their sharp and nearly fatal hooks into plans for early construction of an Ohio Turnpike.

One of the men was the late Joseph V. Stalin, Russian dictator and boss of world Communism. The assumption outside the Iron Curtain is that he gave the word for the North Korean invasion of South Korea on June 25, 1950.

The other was former State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson, the Democrat who held the purse-strings on the early, but vital, engineering surveys leading toward actual turnpike construction.

The Kremlin's effect on the turnpike was simple. The United States entered the Korean conflict. This meant rearmament. Rearmament takes steel. More steel for guns meant less steel for the Ohio Turnpike. The turnpike needs steel for some 500 bridge structures and for concrete reinforcing bars.

The United States government started a program of allocating steel. It was almost two years before the turnpike was assured enough of the suddenly precious metal to go ahead with construction.

But other hindrances popped up, chief of which was the battle put up by Auditor Ferguson. He fought all the way through the Ohio Supreme Court before he would release one dime in state funds for payment of bills submitted by survey engineers.

The turnpike commission, as set up by the law, is independent of the rest of the state government. But, on the other hand, it gets no state money. The only money it can ever have is from the sale of bonds and collection of fees for use of its toll roads.

Ferguson objected to any loan from the state highway department to the turnpike to get the project in motion so that, eventually, he commission could sell its bonds.

The state Supreme Court first ruled a loan could be made.

Later, when Ferguson persisted

It was believed the Maumee suits might force another two-year delay, perhaps doom the whole project.

The commission took things into its own hands. Its secretary-treasurer, A. J. Allen of Cincinnati, refused to sign the bonds. He raised every constitutional question which had occurred to anyone's mind. The commission went to the Ohio Supreme Court for an order to compel Allen to sign the bonds.

The court ordered him to sign and, at the same time, cleared up all constitutional questions. The commission was in the clear and the Maumee suits were neatly by-passed.

Commission Chairman James W. Shocknessy cheered: "No obstacle remains which had been placed in the path of the turnpike construction by wilful obstructionists."

The bonds were sold July 29, 1952. The commission was in the chips, salaries dating back to Sept. 1, 1949, were paid.

The commission got busy assembling a staff, now that money was available to pay employees. In a few months, the first contracts for actual construction were let.

The project roared ahead at full throttle.

But still another roadblock loomed.

Ever since early in its proceedings, the turnpike commission decided the turnpike should be built of Portland cement concrete. The asphalt industry had grumbled.

Public hearings had been held by the commission. The asphalt industry complained it was treated unfairly by not being permitted to bid on the huge project. Richard Shafer of Columbus, representing the Ohio asphalt industry, filed suit to compel the commission to take "alternative" bids—bids on all types of paving materials.

The Second District Court of Appeals decision in favor of alternative bids was a shocker to the commission. It upset all its plans. It had felt on safe legal ground in its early decision in favor of cement concrete.

The commission did the obvious thing. It asked the Supreme Court to reverse the Court of Appeals order requiring acceptance of alternative bids. The court granted a temporary stay of the lower court's order. It set May 20 as the date for a hearing.

But the situation has knocked the commission's time schedule into the proverbial cocked hat. It has suspended the letting of further construction contracts.

There lies the turnpike commission, impaled on an asphalt pike.

his refusal to pay engineering bills on a loan basis, the court ordered him to show cause within 10 days why he shouldn't pay the bills. Ferguson capitulated. But, by then, it was 1951.

But, late the same year, a financial syndicate formed to buy some 326 million dollars worth of turnpike bonds found a gimmick in the turnpike law. The law failed to give the commission the right to condemn land for the right-of-way, take possession of it and argue about the price later. With the law as it stood, the financiers said, they couldn't risk financing the superhighway in view of the long possible delays.

It took a special session of the Legislature in December, 1951, to fix the law so the bonds could be sold.

But, quickly, the unhappiness of some residents of Maumee blossomed into court suits seeking to block the turnpike. The commission was ready to sell its bonds.

Freed Sergeant From Ashland Enroute Home

One of 35 Aboard Hospital Plane Bound for Honolulu

By OLEN CLEMENTS

TOKYO (AP)—Thirty-five American soldiers, freed from Communist prison camps in Korea last week, boarded a big hospital plane here today and headed eastward across the Pacific toward home.

The plane will land in Honolulu, across the international date line, this afternoon, Hawaiian time. After resting about 24 hours the men will leave for California on the last leg of their homeward flight.

No definite schedule was announced, but the plane probably will land at Travis Air Force Base, 40 miles northeast of San Francisco, early Thursday.

The lucky 35 picked for the first homeward-bound plane were moved shortly after noon from two Tokyo Army hospitals to Haneda Airport, where the big transport was waiting. Some were litter cases.

The Army refused to let newsmen talk with the former prisoners at the airport.

Another 114 Americans freed last week at Panmunjom still are under treatment at Army hospitals in Japan. There has been no announcement when a second plane would leave for the U. S.

Municipal Courts Recommended In Delaware, Kenton

An Ohio House Judiciary Subcommittee Monday recommended to the full committee a bill setting up Municipal Courts in Delaware and Kenton as well as several other Ohio cities. The Associated Press reported today.

The other courts would be located in Athens, Circleville, Cuyahoga Falls, Port Clinton, Ravenna, Sidney and Tiffin.

The emergency bill provides for filing of nominating petitions 90 days before the general election. The Delaware and Ravenna courts would have county-wide jurisdiction in Delaware and Portage Counties.

The same subcommittee reported out a bill providing no mayor shall keep for his own use any of the fines, fees or costs which he receives, but all funds would go into the city treasury. Rep. Lytle Zuber (R-Franklin), subcommittee chairman, said he bill will reduce the incentive to set up speed traps.

Central Christian Church Building Committees Named

New building committees were appointed recently by the Central Christian Church official board to start plans for the eventual construction of a worship edifice on the church grounds on Mt. Vernon Ave.

The present church building is the old King-Brown home on the former King estate.

A total of $19,000 in a building fund is now held in trust at the denominational headquarters at Indianapolis, Ind., and this amount will be added to this year through the church budget, the pastor, the Rev. Ashley Booth, stated.

The new committees will have the work of agreeing on a definite site for the new building, and of determining the type of structure and similar details.

On the survey and building plans committee are William Hamor, chairman, and Mrs. James Ward, secretary, and B. F. Ackley, Eugene Burnap, Mrs. Clara Barnhart, Oscar Cross, Robert Mitchell, Mrs. Freida Duckworth, Mrs. A. W. Tibbals, L. M. Sager, Clayton Brobeck, Miss Luella M. Scholl, and Dale Northup.

The building fund committee includes Berkeley Smith and Elmer Weimer, chairman and vice chairman, Herman Heisler, Mrs. Frances Scott, Marvin Brown, Mrs. Bernette Bruce, secretary, Mrs. Paul Paulsen, Ralph Terrall, and Harold VanGordon.

Clarence Shockney is chairman of the official church board and Francis Roush is vice chairman.

U.S. Adopts "Silver Bullet" Tactic

Offer $100,000 to First Red Pilot to Surrender

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Air Force has fired its first "silver bullets" in an effort to get what gunfire hasn't bagged in Korea—a live Communist pilot with a flyable MIG15 or other modern Soviet warplane.

In offering rewards to Red pilots who land their planes on Allied airfields, the United Nations Command has come up with a jet-age version of an accepted tactic in the gaudy era of Chinese warlords.

The announced price scale for the first man and aircraft is $100,000 and for each subsequent pilot and plane, $50,000. Any rewards will be paid out of an Air Force contingent fund.

Senators generally applauded the plan, although fear was expressed that the psychological warfare move might backfire.

Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass) of the Senate Armed Services Committee said in an interview he regarded the offer as a bold stroke.

"Any step, however unusual and unprecedented, that leads in the direction of a satisfactory solution of the war in Korea is worthwhile and should be tried," he said.

Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) said the offer furnishes "another example of taking the initiative in demonstrating to the people behind the Iron Curtain that the Western nations are seeking only peace and to bring the war in Korea to an end without bloodshed."

But Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala), a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he wonders if the psychological warfare move might boomerang if no Communist pilot takes up the offer.

"What happens then? Do we lose face and is Communist morale boosted?" he asked. "I don't want to be in the position of criticizing, but I hope the high command has thought this through and weighed all the risks."

Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark) said he regards the $100,000 price tag on the first delivered jet as "a good bargain just on a business basis." He added that "these jets cost more than that."

Traffic Funds Requested

to determine the least expensive methods of solving the traffic problem. Cost of the survey is estimated at about $20,000.

Following a short discussion, Council decided that because there has been some opposition to spend-use of two hand-fired boilers which create additional smoke, Haldeman reported.

Firm Plans Correction

He also reported that company plans call for correction of the situation, eventually by conversion to either gas or oil furnaces. To help relieve the situation until that time,

Yank Pilot Outflies Reds, Escapes Trap

WITH 5th AIR FORCE. Korea (AP)—A U. S. Sabre jet pilot told today of a harrowing escape from six Red MIGs which herded him north toward Manchuria as the U. S. Air Force offered big cash bonuses to Communist fliers who surrendered.

Capt. Robert J. Anspach of South Charleston, W. Va., said he and his wingman became separated in a recent dogfight and—

"Then I saw these six MIGs, two on my tail firing away and two on each side.

"They seemed to be trying to herd me north," he said. "I tried every trick in the book to break through, but they stuck with me. They took me to the deck (very low) over Sinuiju, flying as a team."

He said that when the MIGs on his tail exhausted their ammunition "they reversed positions with the two flying on my left."

Anspach said that at 2,000 feet over Sinuiju Communist flak batteries opened up and the anti-aircraft fire seemed to bother the Red pilots.

"I broke back through them and headed for the water," he said. "As soon as I got out over the Yellow Sea, they broke off the attack."

Anspach streaked home on the last drops of fuel. The gauge read empty as he landed.

Weeks Sees No Depression

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks said today there will be "no sudden nose-dive in defense production," and there is no reason to fear a business bust when and if peace comes, he added.

"Stock market fluctuations, of course," Weeks told the U. S. Chamber of Commerce. "Adjustments during transitions following later reductions in defense spending, sure. Some downturns in business activity in specific lines after over-stimulation ends, yes.

"But no old-fashioned depression.

"The administration would not sit twirling its thumbs if at some far-off date it should be confronted by a sizeable economic emergency."

The Cabinet officer said new peace feelers from Russia "seem to hint Moscow may react more favorably to President Eisenhower's practical program for permanent peace."

HER LIFE SPARED. There is a look of disbelief on the grease-smeared face of Beverlee Nelson, 27, a few minutes after her rescue from the waters of San Francisco bay during the night. She was one of two who survived the crash of a Western Air Lines four-engined DC6B that fell into the water off Alameda, Calif., with five-passengers and a crew of five aboard. The plane was enroute to Oakland from San Francisco to terminate a flight from Los Angeles. Miss Nelson, one of two stewardesses aboard, was taken to a naval hospital.

Democrats voted to kill the Anderson-Hill proposal. Against them were 25 Democrats, 7 Republicans and 1 independent.

The combined Anderson-Hill substitute would have retained offshore lands under federal control, provided for a system of federal oil leases and dedicated federal revenues to national defense and a system of federal aid to state school systems.

Anderson made an 11th-hour appeal to the Senate not to "override the Supreme Court." Then, showing the strain of the long debate in which he had been a leader, he was forced to leave the Senate chamber for rest and medical attention.

Taft, in his first speech of the debate, said the Supreme Court was wrong in declaring that the federal government had paramount rights in the lands beyond low-water mark on the coast.

Congress, he suggested, has the right to reverse the court to correct an "injustice," especially after the "Supreme Court has reversed the Supreme Court."

Sohio Lists Income Gains Before Taxes

Net Is About Same As Last Year, Is Annual Meeting Report

CLEVELAND—The annual meeting of the Stockholders of The Standard Oil Company (Ohio), held Monday at Hotel Cleveland, was attended by more than 600. Clyde T. Foster, Sohio president, reported to the meeting on the operating results of the company for the first quarter of 1953. Operating vice presidents reported on past and current operations of their departments and on plans for further expansion.

The president stated that for the first quarter this year income before deducting income taxes was 6½ per cent more than for the same quarter of 1952. Net income after taxes was $4,418,456, practically unchanged from the same quarter last year. Earnings on the common stock were equal to $1.05 per share for the first quarter of both years. Thus the increase in sales and operating revenue, which at $76,227,000 was 10.7 per cent greater than last year, was absorbed in higher costs and larger provisions for income taxes.

Volume of petroleum products sold was 16 per cent greater than in the first quarter a year ago. Volume of sales of Sohio branded products was up 5 per cent, including a 6 per cent increase in Sohio branded gasoline sales. There was also a substantial increase in sales of unbranded products at wholesale.

washing some clothes for the children when he heard the commotion, but he made no attempt to stop his wife. He said he heard a thud-like sound in the bathroom and went in to find the boy's body on the floor. He tried to awaken the youngster by slapping him, but finally went back into the kitchen to finish the washing. When he went back into the bathroom, about 15 minutes later, Shaw said the little boy was dead.

Authorities were not notified of the child's death until about 6:30 p.m. Saturday. The Shaws had taken their other two children, Vera, 3, and Theresa, seven weeks, and went to Pfeiffer Station where Mrs. Shaw's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Givens live, to inform them of the tragedy. It was the Givens couple who told their daughter that

Ohio Bell Wage Pact Signed
CLEVELAND (AP)—Ohio Bell
Telephone Co.'s 17,000 employees had a new contract today supplying $2 to $3 weekly pay raises—the first 1953 Bell System agreement signed in the nation.
Effective as of last Sunday, the contract will run for at least a year. But it could go longer than that since it has the unusual feature, for Bell, of having a "free wheeling" clause in it.
This means the contract can remain in force indefinitely until either the CIO—Communications Workers or Ohio Bell management gives a 60-day notice of cancellation.
The new contract was signed Monday night. Negotiations had been in progress since March 3.
Ohio Bell estimated its cost increase will amount to more than $3,300,000 a year.

Kenneth Charles Sawyer of Belle-

Sawyer was arrested Saturday by police here after his car was involved in a mishap with an auto, driven by Herbert S. Grau, of near Bucyrus. He was held to the Crawford County grand jury after furnishing $75 bond at his arraignment before Mayor Sitler.
Police said both cars were damaged slightly.

Protest Rate Hikes
COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—About 420 subscribers in the Richwood exchange of the General Telephone Co. of Ohio protested to the state utilities commission today recent rate increases granted the firm lack of toll-free service. The commission said it would schedule a hearing in Union County.

ing city funds for this purpose a public meeting should be held on the matter.
Decision to hold another meeting on the resolution approving the planning commission action came after residents in the Tully St. and Oak St. area objected to the construction of the printing shop in their residential zone.
The shop is planned by Leo Belknap who now operates a printing shop at 407 N. Prospect St. In his application to the Planning Commission he said he wishes to build a new modern design brick building at Tully and Oak Sts. to provide for expansion of his business. He also presented a petition to the Planning Commission which was signed by residents of the area okaying the construction of the new building, he said. The residents opposing the construction said they were not given adequate opportunity to express their objections.
Held Two Hearings
Mayor Harold F. Robinson reported that the Planning Commission held two hearings on the application of Belknap and authorized the construction after the second meeting when none of the residents were present to object.
The residents said they were present for the first meeting and objected then, but that the final decision of the commission was postponed a week. Mayor Robinson said this was done to give members of the commission a chance to investigate the complaints. The residents said they were unable to be present for the second meeting at the scheduled time at 4:30 p.m. because they were working. They also said the first meeting was late in starting and they assumed the second meeting would also be late.
Belknap told Council that the two abutting property owners had agreed to the construction of the new print shop building.
Council decided to table the resolution approving the Planning Commission action and to hold a public meeting Friday at 7:30 p.m. to further investigate both sides of the case. The meeting is to be held at Municipal Courtroom in the City Hall.
Council spent nearly an hour listening to complaints of residents living near the Tecumseh Steel Products Co. Universal Cooler Division plant.
Mrs. Barbara Norris of 417 Mary St. complained coal smoke from the company boilers is so thick that it creates a health hazard.
Others in the group complained that the smoke also makes it necessary to paint their homes every year.
Robert G. Haldeman, councilman-at-large, reported that he met with company officials and they explained the smoke has been made worse because one of two stoker-fired boilers is undergoing repairs. This makes necessary the he said, company officials plan to use a more expensive coal which is nearly smokeless.

Haldeman then took up the problem of truck traffic to the plant.
He reported it is not possible to reroute them off Mary St. because of the set up of company production lines. Raw materials must start through the plant from loading docks at the south-east corner of the plant building. Only access to these docks is by way of Mary St., he said.
Residents of Mary St. asked Council to reroute the trucks off their street at the last meeting.
They said the trucks were damaging the street and their homes.
Haldeman suggested that one solution might be to make Mary St. one-way for northbound traffic. The residents agreed this plan would cut down the truck traffic by allowing them to travel one direction only on their street.
After more discussion on other phases of the truck traffic to the plant, Council turned the problem over to Mayor Robinson to investigate the possibility of setting up truck routes to and from the plant.
Transfer of the $13,000 from the general fund to the airport construction fund was made necessary to pay for seeding of airport grounds and construction of a new taxi-way. The money will be on loan until such time as the federal government makes matching funds available for use at the airport.
The government will not make these funds available until after the projects are completed.
The ordinance establishing the additional civilian clerk position in the police department was made at the request of Police Chief Tom Coon. He said he needed the clerk to free more patrolmen for police work. Salary for the position is to be $175 a month for the first six months, $187.50 a month for the second six months, and $200 a month after the first year of employment.
Approval of an ordinance authorizing the advertising of bids for rebuilding of 237 parking meter clocks was made after City Auditor Elmer Shaw said this would mean a substantial savings. He said the rebuilt clocks would carry a new clock guarantee at much less cost than a new clock.
Total cost of rebuilding the 237 meters is not to exceed $4,000.
Will Stock Medical Supplies
Stock piling of medical supplies

be maintained. If Civil Defense

Admits He Stole Secret U.S. Plans
WASHINGTON (AP)—Thad Mason, a self-identified former Communist spy testified today he stole secret
U. S. plans for a military diesel engine during World War II.
The witness who is from Wallington, N. J., said the thefts were from a General Motors plant in Cleveland, O., and not from a Detroit plant of General Motors as reported previously by the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee before which he testified.
Mason said he stole the plans one by one from files of the inspection division, and smuggled them to fellow spies who worked as a cook and "second assistant dishwasher" in the plant's cafeteria. The plans then were photographed in a secret hideout in the basement of the cafeteria, he said.
He learned later, he said, the blueprints were for only part of the engine, although he had believed he was stealing the plans for the entire unit.

'Fearless Ferber'

If there were a congressional medal for bravery above and beyond the call of duty for civilians, I would now be plugging for such a citation for Miss Edna Ferber, the lady novelist.

Within a matter of months, Miss Ferber has so infuriated Texas with her latest novel "Giant" locale: Texas, character: "Texans" that the Lone Star State has declared a blood feud, canceled her visa and placed a price on her noggin. All of which sells books, I hope.

YOU WOULD think that fussin' and feudin' and fightin' with Texas would keep one novelist busy on a 24-hour per day basis. But, no! The writer, now known as Fearless Ferber, has taken on Robert Moses, New York City construction co-ordinator and known internationally as the terrible tempered Mr. Bang.

Fearless Ferber incurred the displeasure and denunciation of Mr. Moses when she returned from Europe last week and called New York, her home town, "the most disgustingly filthy" city in the world.

Miss Ferber was only stating a fact that the rest of us citizens of this wonderful city have either suspected or known ever since the late Mayor LaGuardia quit the mayoralty and normal city services such as street cleaning, orderly garbage collection, etc. have all but ground to a standstill.

When Fearless Ferber described Central Park as unfit for "a self-respecting goat," I thought perhaps the goat population might rise in arms.

BUT IT IS Mr. Moses who has rushed to the defense of goats and the city! The terrible tempered Mr. Bang instantly cried that if all one looks for in New York is garbage, he "can find plenty of it." Dear me! Mr. M. is a lucky boy indeed if he has to look for garbage in New York City. The rest of us fall over it any and every time we set foot on a public street.

Even though Mr. Moses' disposition is always flying off in all directions, like an explosion in a shrapnel factory, I must enlist in this battle for the duration on the side of Fearless Ferber. She is right and Mr. Moses, the world authority on parks, super-highways, bridges, tunnels (especially wind), and public improvements in general, is dead wrong.

EVEN IF this truly great authority on city and country planning lives a rarefied life, with his head in the clouds, it's amazing he hasn't long since choked to death from the hideous smog that hangs over New York as it once hung over Pittsburgh until its officials had the intestinal fortitude to enforce rules against air pollution.

New York owes much of its beauty and comfort to the terrible tempered Mr. Bang. He could give us a clean city if he would. He has to win to get his own way, always. Once, years ago, he dined with mutual friends on a bitter winter night. To my amazement, when Mr. Moses toasted his ankles before the fireplace, I noticed he was wearing long red underwear. "I wear it for a purpose," said the unabashed Mr. Moses. "I am constantly forced to take political committees, composed of fools and braying asses, to inspect and approve public works in the dead of winter."

By Inez Robb

"I make 'em get out of their heated limousines and walk all over the project," he continued with savage pleasure. "I'm prepared for it; they aren't. At the end of five minutes, they're ready to say 'yes' to anything."

A MAN like that could clean up New York if he would. He might even spike Fearless Ferber's guns. For years, Mr. Moses has been picking off easy prey with his temper. But I warn him! Miss Ferber is sterner stuff.

A woman who will take on Texas single-handed isn't going to be intimidated by anyone. She's used to living dangerously.

EUB Revival Ends With Area Rally

Closing service of the Union Evangelical United Brethren revival Sunday night at Calvary EUB Church was held in connection with a denominational area rally there. Mrs. H. V. Falor of Marion was the speaker for the union service.

Preceding the revival hour, separate meetings were held by the Marion Group Brotherhood, the WSW, and the Youth Fellowship. Approximately 60 men heard Torrey Kaatz of Toledo, national president of the Brotherhood, 130 women attended the session to hear Mrs. Kaatz, branch secretary of Christian social relations of the women's organization, and 50 young people were present for the youth meeting. Stanford Ruggles of Marion, state youth president and president of the Marion Group YF, was the young people's speaker.

For the union service, the volunteer choir sang a special number. The Rev. A. E. Clark of the rural Salem Church was song leader, Mrs. Clark presided at the piano, and Mrs. J. W. Baker was organist. Prayer was by Dr. L. E. Ames, pastor of the First EUB Church.

Mrs. Falor's message was on "The Great Invitation." She said, "When the voice of God speaks to us it is time for us to heed. The Holy Spirit is the only one who can bring you to Jesus. If you ever want to get to Heaven, get out of your backslidden state, you will have to listen to the one who is knocking at your heart's door. America had better get to her knees. We had better get some religion in our homes before we cease to be fit to live, cease to be fit to be parents."

God tells us to flee from the wrath to come. God is going to wake us up one of these days with a start unless we quit playing church, quit playing religion. God is going to hold us accountable for what we do and for what we do not do. If you cannot get hold of Jesus any more you need to get to the altar. Take heed that you do not disobey the Holy Spirit. God opens the door of mercy and he closes the door. One of these days when this world is on fire will you be in the ark of salvation? Man ought to learn that he cannot outrun and outwit God."

Reds Drive Forward In Indochina

LUANGPRABANG, Laos — French planes poured troops and munitions today into this royal seat of the little Indochinese kingdom of Laos, threatened by Communist-led Vietminh troops reported only 12 to 25 miles away.

French and Laotian soldiers dug trenches and constructed barbed wire entanglements around the little town of 6,000, hereditary home of aged, ailing King Sisavang Vong.

The King's son, Crown Prince Savang, told newsmen his people are determined to defend their country and "we know we are going to defeat the enemy if they attack Luangprabang."

A French major reported that advance units of the invaders are within 12 miles of the town on the north, while on the east larger forces had advanced to within 25 miles.

Gen. Raoul Salan, French commander in chief in Indochina, flew to Luangprabang yesterday from his headquarters at Hanoi, 275 miles to the northeast. He assured the crown prince the French would fight it out before the town and said he was confident his forces would give the Vietminh a severe beating.

The Vietminh radio broadcast a "resistance government" is following the Red Army into Laos. The radio said it was headed by Souphanou Yong, who formed a fugitive Laotian government in Vietminh territory in 1950.

The Red command was reported also building up its forces circling the Plaine des Jarres, 70 miles southeast of Luangprabang, where French and Laotian forces have thrown up strong defenses in the hope of bringing the Vietminh to a showdown battle on ground of their own choosing.

New Devices Make TV Film Easier on Eyes

LOS ANGELES —Better television pictures from films, rivaling live programs in quality, were promised today by new devices shown to broadcasters at their annual convention.

Both Philco Corp. of Philadelphia and Allen B. Du Mont Laboratories of Clifton, N. J., demonstrated new ways of projecting film on television which they said are radically different from present methods.

At the 31st annual meeting of the National Association of Radio and Television Broadcasters, they displayed what are called "continuous film scanners," both adaptable to showing color as well as black and white.

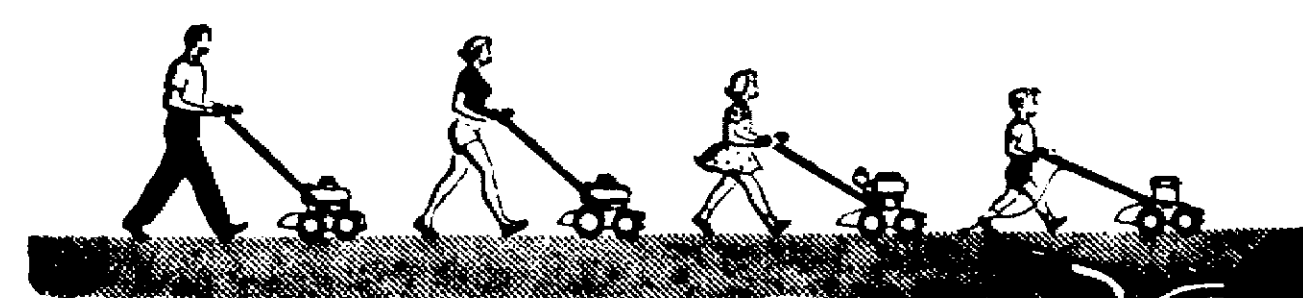

They said the devices would give better quality pictures than the present method of "jerk-and-stop" projection of movies where each successive frame of a film is halted momentarily, scanned, then yanked out of the way and the next image put in position.

The new method keeps the film moving at a continuous rate and minimizes jerkiness and flicker on the screen on the TV set, while giving sharper, clearer pictures.

The process was described as solving one of TV's biggest problems in showing film. Movies are shown at the rate of 24 pictures a second to give the illusion of motion. Television uses 30 pictures a second. Because of the problem of converting from one to the other, said officials of the two companies, TV has never been able to get the most out of films even when they are of top quality.

Inside Labor

Tables Turned

Paradoxically, just as the nation's most powerful labor leaders are ready to unleash furious attacks on the Republican administration because they find themselves unable to get to the President of the U.S. after 20 years of easy entry into the White House, they discover that the Republican with the most willing ear is none other than "Mr. Republican" himself, Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Otherwise, except for an occasional visit with President Eisenhower, even the AFL finds itself cut off from the administration. The sophisticated labor men, including the most conservative, hardly expected to find direct White House telephone wires open to them as they were with Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Truman. But they did expect that the new President would have a John Steelman, a Sam Rosenman or a David Niles whom the union chiefs could phone any time of the day — or night for that matter.

ALL THAT'S gone now. There's just no one to call directly. If the labor chiefs want to get to President Eisenhower, they must write a letter or talk to some clerk way down the line who protects those who shield the President.

Furthermore, there is the deepest resentment in AFL circles, which for a while appeared to be the semi-official labor circle in the White House, over the administration's junking of an old Democratic policy.

The labor leaders are no longer consulted on any appointments, any committees, any setting of policy affecting social welfare, wages, production, etc., etc. There just is no automatic "Who will represent AFL and CIO?" discussion when one of Mr. Eisenhower's top echelon aides sets up a new policy board.

To use Sam Goldwyn's immortal phrase — labor feels it has been included out.

BUT NOT by President Eisenhower, say the union chiefs. They blame the men around Ike for "isolating" him.

As an example, they relate the story of labor's efforts to get to the President on a crisis in Massachusetts. During the presidential campaign, Ike passed through the textile depression area around Lawrence.

By Victor Riesel

When Mr. Eisenhower was informed of the troubled times in that city, he said: "If you come to me personally, I'll arrange to get some work for your people."

Unemployment is still bitterly high there. So some time after the inauguration the CIO wrote to the President.

WEEKS PASSED. No reply. No acknowledgment. Finally they got to "chief of staff" Sherman Adams. He said that the cabinet officers to see were Secretary of Commerce Weeks and Secretary of Labor Durkin. They tried. Finally, after a long—and silent—month or so, Durkin said there was nothing the administration could do. Lawrence would have to solve its own problems.

There was no evidence that the original letter got anywhere near President Eisenhower. Nor is this the first instance of futile efforts to get by the bureaucratic curtain which the new staff has dropped around the President. I know of one congressman who actually was warned by this buffer crowd by President Eisenhower himself.

The representative from New York asked the President for some help for his people. Ike said he'd be glad to do it. And as the congressman was leaving, the President said, in effect, "Write me a letter. If I don't answer you, that's no sign I've forgotten. It will simply mean the boys have diverted it elsewhere into channels. Wait three weeks. Then write me again. If still no answer, contact me directly."

That's exactly what happened. The letter was diverted.

MEANWHILE, some AFL leaders have discovered they can make contact with the administration — through Sen. Taft. As a result of their conferences with him, they have won what seems to be a great, but somewhat overlooked victory.

During a Senate hearing on the Taft-Hartley law last Wednesday, Taft surprised the committee by suggesting that it explore removing the AFL Building and Construction Trades from the Taft-Hartley Labor Management Act. This would exclude some 3,000,000 members of the AFL Construction Trades Council, the backbone of the Federation.

However, the AFL's resentment against being frozen out of government areas which labor believed

Archer Fish Shoots Out Lights in Aquarium

SAN FRANCISCO (P)—Director Robert Miller reports some very fishy goings-on at Steinhart Aquarium.

Some sharpshooting tropical archer fish, taking a strenuous dislike to 300-watt bulbs installed over their tanks to provide light and warmth, are shooting out the lights.

The archers suck in a mouthful of water, stick their snouts up to the surface and pfft! pop! the cold water shatters the hot bulbs and the fish go back to sleep or whatever fish do when the lights are out.

Miller is experimenting with shields over the bulbs.

The Adamnaby irrigation tunnel, under construction in Australia, is 21 feet in diameter.

Pentagon Policy

By George Sokolsky

It is difficult to understand why, if our industries were capable of such successful production in World War II, they fell down during the Korean War. Obviously, that could not be, because when American industry gets a contract, it produces and delivers the goods. Therefore the trouble must be in the

Lt. Gen. Levin H. Campbell, Jr., who established an outstanding reputation. In this capacity he was responsible for seeing to it that new facilities were provided for the manufacture of arms and ammunition.

He had under his direction four officers, three of them regulars, Col. Henry B. Sheets, and one civilian, Col. Herbert White, who was from the automotive industry.

When Gen. Wesson's term of office expired, Gen. Campbell became chief of ordnance and his usual drive and ability spread through the entire organization.

ONE OF the other major and most difficult factors in ammunition production was the construction for the housing of manufacturing facilities. This was originally under Gen. Edmund B. Gregory, the quartermaster general, with Gen. Somervell in direct charge.

In both ammunition procurement and construction every effort was made to avoid delay, and delays were avoided. The officers had a definite understanding of the needs of the troops, although they were not responsible for estimating these needs.

Certainly Gen. Campbell, Gen. Somervell and Gen. Leslie R. Groves, who was deputy chief of construction before he went to the Manhattan Project, had a better appreciation of the need for small arms ammunition in the summer of 1941 than seemed to be existent anywhere else.

They knew their business and recognized their responsibilities. They seemed to feel keenly the obligation to see that troops in action had the ammunition they needed. There were no failures.

THE SAME kind of energy and responsibility went into the Manhattan Project, when Gen. Leslie R. Groves managed it. The atom bomb was made and used before the war was over. When Gen. Groves was assigned to the Manhattan Project, Secretary Stimson told him that he was to do anything that was necessary, if by so doing it he could complete the project one day sooner.

Many other names may be mentioned in connection with this great work which won a way by production and supply. Why is it that none of these men of experience is being used even in a consultative capacity?

Many of them are in private industry using their vast experience, much of it gained while in the Army. Is there no way to use them for America?

I come back to the subject of our profligate use of manpower. These officers have had a wonderful training; we retire them at their peak to make room for the next generation. Nevertheless, there ought to be a way of using them, if only in a consultative capacity.

noon in the high school auditorium by the Carey High School band. The program was comprised of varied selection of typical band literature, together with several numbers. Included were "The New Colonial March," "King Cotton," "Janus Overture," and "Dorian Overture." In the more popular vein, "Deep Purple" and a selection of well-known tunes from the musical "Irene." Several novelty Latin American numbers were "El Burrito" and "Lookie, Lookie, Wolf Boy!" a catchy rhythmic selection in the calypso style. A descriptive story of Cinderella was heard in "The Glass Slipper," and "The Merry Widow," gave a bit of light opera to the program. Representing the modern "jazz" styling were a group of five short selections featuring Bob Cole, cornet soloist; Jim Patterson, cornet soloist; Richard Phillips, alto saxophone soloist; and Marlene Lee, clarinet soloist, in "Juke Box."

In addition to the band numbers, a woodwind quintet composed of Paul Williams Jr., clarinet; Joyce Myers, flute; Lynn McDaniel, oboe; Eileen Mott, bassoon, and Carole Walter, French horn, played "Marche Hongroise," and a saxophone quartet composed of Richard Phillips and Nina Rader, alto saxophone; Sandra Gunther, tenor saxophone and Joyce Savidge, baritone saxophone, presented "Intermezzo." Eileen Mott was program narrator.

New Building at Mt. Vernon and Seffner to Be Completed in Fall

Congregation of Israel Breaks Ground for Temple

S. G. KLEINMAIER, OLDEST SURVIVING CHARTER MEMBER of the Marion Congregation of Israel is shown in the above photograph as he prepared to turn over the first shovel of dirt Sunday at ground breaking ceremonies of the organization's new Temple. Handing the shovel to him is Benjamin J. Salzman, a member of the Congregation. Actual start of construction of the new building at Mt. Vernon and S. Seffner Aves. began Monday morning. Watching the proceedings are other members of the Congregation and invited guests.

Ground-breaking ceremonies for the new Congregation of Israel Temple and community center were held Sunday noon at the building site at Mt. Vernon and S. Seffner Aves.

Construction of the new edifice started Monday, and completion is scheduled for September. Architect for the sandstone colored brick building is R. Massitt of the F and Y Building Services of Columbus.

Present with members of the congregation were representatives of civic and religious interests of the community. Representing the government of Marion was Tom S. Cathers, city engineer, and present from the community's Religion in American Life committee were George Schertzer, head of the Protestant branch of RIAL, Robert A. Kelly of the Catholic branch, and Ben Lenavitt of the Jewish branch, who acted as master of ceremonies. Invocation was by Rabbi Victor Wiesberg.

First shovelful of earth was turned by the congregation's oldest member, S. G. Kleinmaier, and turning of the second was participated in by children of the youngest Sunday School Class, including Jackie Hirsch, Diane Elliot, Phil-

Baby Sitters

NEW YORK (P)—You think it's hard to find a good baby sitter today?

Well, here is the way the problem will probably size up by 1960: Joe McFarb and his wife, Mary Ann, decide to take a night off from parenthood and go out and see a movie. But who will stay home and watch little Junior? Joe calls up the happy home baby sitting agency, and the conversation runs as follows:

Joe—I would like a good baby sitter for tonight, and—lip Hamburg, Lena Seligman, Robin, Sidney, and Monty Rohm. Larry Babich and Mary Ann Shapiro. In response to words by Mr. Lenavitt, Mr. Schertzer spoke of the good spirit of brotherhood in Marion as a community, and Mr. Kelly conveyed best wishes of the St. Mary Church congregation. Mr. Cathers spoke of the new building as a credit to the city and as a monument to religious faith and a stepping stone forward in religious belief. Benediction was given by Max Birnbaum of the Congregation of Israel.

Agency—No, We'll have to have

Agency—For tonight? Are you kidding? We are booked up through the spring and summer. How about next fall?

Joe—I don't know what movie will be showing next fall. Mary Ann and I want to see the one that's on tonight. Maybe you'll have a cancellation.

Agency—We don't like to do business on an emergency basis. Usually our sitters insist on having met our clients socially, to be sure they are proper people. They can't afford to get mixed up with the wrong crowd.

Joe—Look, I'm in a real spot. Can't you help a fellow?

Agency—It's against the rules, but—, I'll try to speed up the formalities.

Joe (humbly)—Gee, thanks, what do I have to do?

Agency—Well, you and your wife and son had better drop down to our office at once. Bring along a recent photo of your home. We will also need a letter of credit from your bank, and a character testimonial from your pastor.

Joe (dazedly)—That all?

Agency—No, We'll have to have a copy of your son's latest school report card, an estimate of his personality by his teacher, and a certificate from a doctor stating he is free from contagious diseases. We also require written permission for us to consult your family psychiatrist privately to get his opinion on the status of any unresolved conflicts within your home.

Joe (weakly)—Is that all?

Agency—Well, of course, naturally you are prepared to pay our usual limousine costs for picking up your sitter and co-sitter and returning them to their homes. They will expect a hot meal on their arrival, and refreshments in your refrigerator in case they should wish to entertain a few friends while on duty. It goes without saying that your television set must be in perfect condition.

Joe—Wait a minute. You lost me. What is this business about a co-sitter.

Agency—All baby sitters today insist on bringing a co-sitter along for company. You know, like airplane pilots do.

Joe—How much is all this going to cost me?

Area men were Cpl. Paul C. McDaniel of near Forest and 1st Lt. Robert B. Love of near Ada.

Agency—Our minimum fee is $75, but right now we aren't taking on any more of these charity cases.

Joe—Look, mister, all I want is some nice elderly lady who knows about kids and would like to pick up maybe $5 watching little Junior for us while we take in a movie. Don't you know of any baby sitters like that?

Agency—I do. We had one like her, and made the mistake of selling her to a museum that wanted to preserve her for historical purposes. Well?

Joe—Look, mister, I want to make you a proposition. To heck with the movie. What I want to know is, if I shoot Junior, can Mary Ann and I go to work for you as baby sitters?

Agency—You can. But be quick. I've got four jobs waiting for you right now. All high class.

Harding Runners Prepare for Marion Night Relays Friday

11 Class A Schools Will Send Entries

880 Relays For County and Junior High Teams Planned

Eleven Class A schools will vie for honors in the fourth annual Marion Night Relays at the Harding High School Stadium Friday. Team entries have been received from Bexley, Worthington and Upper Sandusky, according to Harding track coach Kenny Somerlot, and the remainder will be received by today, deadline for team entries.

Upper Sandusky, one of four new schools in the meet, will enter an 18-man squad. Bexley will send 14 to the meet, and Worthington six. Delaware, Galion and Painsville will be new teams while the other schools will be Findlay, Fostoria, Tiffin Columbian and Upper Arlington, in addition to host Harding.

Two features of the meet will be 880-yard relays for Marion County high schools and MAR - DEL league teams. Morral, Green Camp, LaRue and Prospect high schools have entered teams in the Marion County 880 relay and more county schools are expected to enter. Vernon, Edison, and State Street junior high schools from Marion and Delaware junior high school, all members of the MAR-DEL League, will take part in the other special 880 relay.

At stake for Harding will be the Midtown Chevrolet rotating trophy. The locals have won the Night Relays two straight years and a third win means they can keep permanent possession of the trophy.

Vance Sporting Goods also offers a trophy to the meet winner. The runner-up team will receive a trophy and trophies will be awarded to the winner of the 880 relay and mile relay teams. Medals will be awarded to the top three men in each event and ribbons to the fourth and fifth placers. The individual high scoreman will receive a trophy. Scoring is on a 6-4-3-2-1 basis for the first five places.

Field events will get moving at 6 p.m. and finals in running events will begin at 7:30 p.m. Preliminary

Marion Host For 3-School Meet Tonight

Findlay and Fremont Will Invade Stadium; Events Start at 6

Harding's track team defends its title in the fourth annual Triangular Night meet with Findlay and Fremont tonight at the Harding Stadium.

Kenny Somerlot's thinclads have won the meet three straight years and are out to keep their record clean.

Field events get under way at 6 p.m. and running events will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Five meet records were set last year at Findlay, four by Harding, and chances are that more will be set tonight. Harding's Ashworth set marks of 4:45.3 in the mile and 2:06 in the 880 last year along with a teammate, Geissler, who was clocked at 20.5 in the 180 yard low hurdles and at 22.3 in the 220. Findlay's Caldwell covered the 120 yard high hurdles in 15.5 for a new mark last year.

Trackmen will be shooting at nine other marks set in 1950 and 1951 when the meets were held at the Stadium and Fremont.

Findlay holds most of the marks. Peterson had a 48 foot, 6½ inch effort in the shot put, W. Garnes a 5 foot, 8 inch jump in the high jump, Caldwell a 10 foot, 9 inch performance in the pole vault, Myers a 10.3 clocking in the 100-yard dash, W. Garnes a 53.0 time in the 440 yard dash, and Findlay a 1:37 clocking in the 880-yard relay.

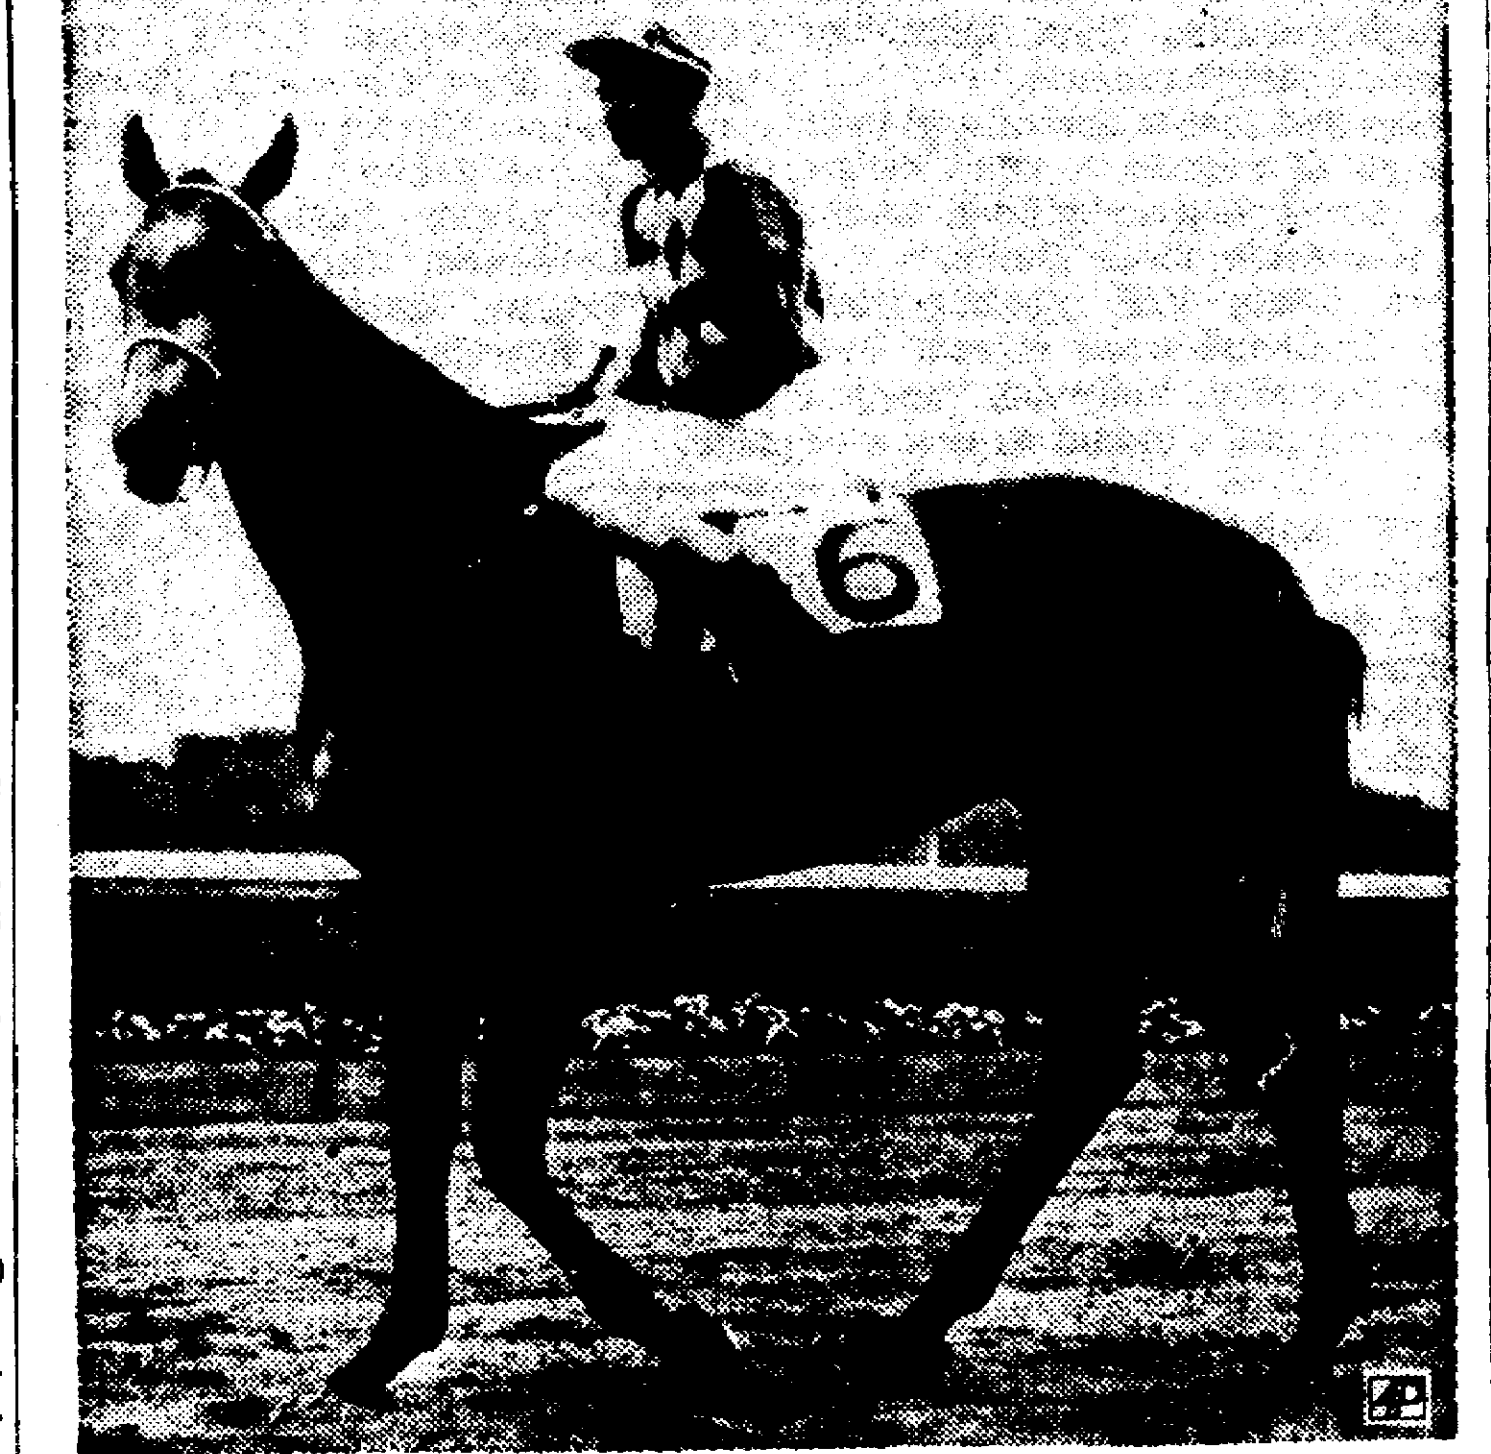

Harding set the mile relay mark of 3:42.1 in 1951 while Fremont owns the best performance in the discus and broad jump events. The records are a 20 foot, 4½ inch leap by Glover and a 134 foot, 4 inch heave by Biggs.

The locals will be out to add onto their already impressive records. Harding recently won its fourth straight Fremont Relays title and this year has won four straight dual meets, extending its dual meet win string to 33 straight. The mark is two ahead of the Harding state championship cross-country team which has won 31

Frick Warns Big Leaguers On Gambling

Players Warned On High Stake Poker By Commissioner

NEW YORK (AP)—A combination of alertness and innocence is being professed by club managers and officials in reaction to Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick's official warning against high-stakes gambling among major league personnel.

Frick incorporated his warning in a bulletin which he ordered to be posted in all clubhouses. It emphasizes the evils of permitting card games among players "where the stakes are high."

The commissioner also said in an announcement in New York yesterday that players would have to stay out of gambling places where, he charged, some have

Softball Play Scheduled To Begin May 11

Three Church League Games at Garfield Park Set That Date

At a meeting of the Marion Recreational Softball Commission held at the YMCA Monday night, drawings were conducted to initiate play in the four adult leagues for the 1953 season.

Season openers, originally scheduled May 4, have been moved back one week until May 11 because of weather conditions.

St. Mary No. 2 team and Trinity Baptist will meet in the first of three scheduled Church League games at Garfield Park May 11. The Commission reviewed administrative rules and appointed Harold Smith, Ray Robbins and L. W. Weiss to make up the Umpires Committee. A committee to handle all forms of protests will consist of George Wood, Joe

NCAA Would Take Top Grid Teams Off TV

Proposed Plan Gives Preference to Teams Not Viewed in '52

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The college football teams that attracted the greatest television audiences last season may not appear on the networks next fall if the program proposed by the 1953 National Collegiate Athletic Association Television Committee is carried to the limit.

The new plan, released yesterday, has been sent to the NCAA member colleges for approval. It will go into effect when it gets a two-thirds majority by a mail vote. With a few exceptions, it is much the same as the one-game-a-week television program of 1952.

In drawing up the conditions, the committee specified that "in the selection of games, preference will be given to colleges which did not participate in network telecasting in 1952."

That would seem to rule out such top-flight teams as Notre Dame, Oklahoma, Michigan State, Alabama, Princeton and Southern California along with the others which were part of the 11-game TV program last fall.

The sponsors, however, have the last word about what games they want to show—subject to the committee's approval and the principles laid down—and it is hard to imagine a sponsor passing up the Notre Dame-Oklahoma game for a lesser attraction on the same day.

The principal difference between the 1953 plan and the one followed in 1952 is that the new one calls for a "panorama experiment" on two or three dates. Instead of televising one game in its entirety, parts of four games at widely separated geographical locations would be shown. Probably one quarter of each game would be aired.

Another change is that at least one of the 10 or 11 complete games televised must originate in each of the eight NCAA districts. Lack of facilities made it impossible to put on games played in the Southwest and mountain states areas

Defeats Delaware, Grandview Richwood Track Team Wins 3-School Meet

Special to The Star

RICHWOOD — Richwood won a triangular meet at Delaware Monday afternoon over Grandview and Delaware. Richwood piled up 61½ points to Grandview's 53½ and Delaware's 31.

Richwood picked up only four firsts to Grandview's and Delaware's five but garnered eight second places.

Dick Oman set a new Richwood school record when he covered the 120 yard high hurdles in 15.8. He also placed third in the 180 yard low hurdles after leading and falling over the last hurdle.

Richwood swept the pole vault with Jim Fox clearing 9-6. Sam

Pierce and Dick Monroe were second and third respectively. Fox also took third in the 100 yard dash and tied for second in the high jump.

Pierce placed second in the 100 yard dash and ran on both the 880 yard and mile relay teams, which finished second. Fred Cheney took second in the 400 yard dash and fourth in the 880 yard run. Bob Roberts placed fourth in the 440 yard dash and ran on the mile relay team.

John Ankney placed second in the mile run, Lloyd Douglas was second in the high hurdles and third in the lows, Roger Travis placed third in the shot put and ran on the half-mile relay team, and Larry Greenwood placed fourth in the discus and ran on the mile relay team.

Sam Bumgarner won the high jump with a 5-2 leap and placed third in the broad jump, which was won by John Smith with an 18-0 effort. Smith also ran on the half-mile relay team.

Probably the best individual performer of the meet was Payne of Delaware. He won the 100, 220 and 440 yard dashes in times of 10.6, 24.1, and 54.3.

Richwood goes to Delaware again Friday where it will participate in a Mid-Buckeye League meet.

Would Stop Fight After 3 Knockdowns

BOSTON (AP)—As a result of the Jimmy Carter vs. Tommy Collins lightweight title bout, Massachusetts Boxing Commission member Henry Lamar says he'll seek a new rule making it mandatory to stop a fight after a boxer has been knocked down three times in one round.

Collins was floored 10 times—while a national audience watched on TV and listened by radio—before Referee Tommy Rawson awarded the bout to champion Carter at 2:28 of the fourth round on a technical knockout.

Redlegs Meet Brooks Tonight

BROOKLYN (AP)—And now the big question for Brooklyn is: "Will the Cincinnati Redlegs play patsy for the Dodgers the same way they did last season, or are they going to cause trouble?"

The Brooks fattened their lead handsomely at the expense of the Redlegs while winning the 1952 National League pennant. They won 17 of the 22 games they played against Cincinnati. What is more, 10 of the Brooklyn victories right on the Rhinelanders' home

Olson-Young Bout Claimed In Two Cities

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The American middleweight title picture is still muddled although managers of the two top boxers—Carl (Bobo) Olson and Paddy Young—announced they had signed for a bout. The gimmick is: They signed for different cities and on different dates.

The International Boxing Club said in New York that Harry Stikevers had signed Young to fight Olson June 19 in Madison Square Garden.

But Sid Flaherty said here he had signed for Olson to meet Young at the San Francisco Cow
Palace June 6 with William P.
Kyne promoting.

Flaherty's unwillingness to sign for a New York bout stems from two main objections—the IBC and money.

Angered by an edict from New York State Boxing Commissioner
Robert Christenberry to sign Olson for a Young fight under IBC auspices or forfeit title claims, Flaherty said:

"I couldn't see how Christenberry could act as matchmaker for the IBC and force me to fight for them exclusively and for less money than I might make elsewhere."

Indianapolis Back on Top

By The Associated Press

Indianapolis hopped back atop the American Association standings Monday night with a 3-1 victory over the Toledo Sox.

The Louisville Colonels dropped to a second-place tie with St. Paul as the Colonels lost to Kansas City 6-2 and the Saints beat Minneapolis 5-4.

The Columbus-Charleston game was rained out.

Eddie Blake hurled a five-hitter for the Indianapolis win.

Kansas City, winning only its third game in nine starts, got a four-hit performance from Ed Cereghino and Art Schallock.

Ted Bartz climaxed a St. Paul comeback with a two-out eighth inning single that scored the two runs that put the Saints in front to stay.

been frequently.

Frick commented that an increasing amount of gambling in connection with baseball games prompted the bulletin, which he insisted was a routine notice.

The team managers, held responsible by the commissioner for stamping out gambling, generally agreed that (1) Frick was right in stressing the point, (2) they were calling the attention of their players and staffs to the bulletin and to the penalties and (3) there was no such thing going on on their respective squads.

Manager Marty Marion of the St. Louis Browns and New York
Giant Vice President Charles Feeney, speaking for team officers and Manager Leo Durocher, made it particularly clear they were in complete agreement with the edict.

Brooklyn Vice President E. J.
(Buzze) Bavasi and Cleveland Manager Al Lopez were quick to respond that their teams had rules against card playing for anything but minor stakes.

Feeney and Managers Lou Boudreau of the Boston Red Sox, Phil Cavaretta of the Chicago Cubs and Eddie Stanky of the St. Louis Cards stated there was nothing but penny ante and inoffensive card playing going on in the clubhouses and hotel rooms they occupied.

Cincinnati General Manager
Gabe Paul said he knew nothing of high stakes gambling among the Redlegs and Marion indicated there was no gambling by his players on road trips.

a sore shoulder right along, but beat Washington Thursday for his first victory.

"If he can't go," said Athletics
Manager Jimmy Dykes, "I'll use Harry Byrd. Wednesday, it'll be Alex Kellner."

League Leading Indians and Phillies Play at Home

Baseball Teams on First Big East-West Invasions Today

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sportswriter

Today the ball clubs take a look at their distant relatives for the first time this season.

The American League's Eastern teams go west while the National League views the sights in the East. This first interregional play is always particularly important. It shows how the leagues are balanced.

It also gives the rookies their first glimpses of some new parks.

And it gives a better line on whether a club can be depended upon to win away from home, since it is a prolonged trip rather than the short opening junkets to nearby cities.

Here's the major league picture at the start of the East-West invasions:

The Philadelphia Phillies, riding an eight-game winning streak, lead the National League by a big 2½ games over the second-place Chicago Cubs. Brooklyn, the experts' choice to win the pennant for the second straight season, is third, only one notch over the 500 mark after 11 games. St. Louis and Milwaukee are tied for fourth, followed by New York, Cincinnati and Pittsburgh.

In the American League Cleveland owns a 28 percentage point advantage over the Defending Champion New York Yankees, al-

Track Bars Trainers Who Sought Cut

Horsemen Wanted 40 Per Cent of Park's Parimutuel Take

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Ten of the west's leading trainers of thoroughbreds have been asked not to bring any more horses to Hollywood Park for the summer meeting open May 12.

The track Monday issued a ban against Charles Leavitt, vice-president of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association, and various other trainers who say they'll castrated allyllw -oonmre say they will not race at Hollywood Park unless their demand for 40 per cent of the track's share of the parimutuel is distributed to owners.

The others are Willie Molter, R. H. McDaniel, Allen Drumheller, George Ring, Rex Ellsworth, Bob Roberts, Ralph West, Vande Longden and Ross Brinson.

General Manager James D. Stewart of Hollywood Park said the notice was issued on advice of legal counsel. Stewart said Leavitt had publicly repudiated an agreement he made to race the horses he brought to the park.

The action, he said, was not directed against Leavitt because of his leadership of the HBPA, but because Hollywood Park needs all its stable area for horses that will race at the meeting.

In Columbus, O., Robert O. Read, president of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association, denounced Hollywood Park's ban as "intimidation."

"Since when is it criminal for anybody to ask for more money here in America?" he asked. "This is a direct attempt to intimidate these horsemen... who have been attempting to obtain an equitable purse arrangement."

He called on horse owners all the Yanks' dozen. The dangerous Chicago White Sox are a close third with the St. Louis Browns and Philadelphia Athletics tied for fourth. Boston, Washington and Detroit finish out the standings.

In both leagues the leaders will be playing at home. The Phillies begin and 11-game stand against the West with the Cardinals coming in tonight for three straight night contests. Milwaukee will stop off for two games, Chicago for four and Cincinnati for two.

The Indians have only seven games against the Eastern American League entries this time around. They start off tonight and tomorrow with the Athletics, rest a day before a two-game series with Boston and a double-header with Washington and then take another day off prior to a single night game with the Yankees.

Other games today in the American League bring Washington to Chicago and Boston to Detroit while the Yankees play tonight in St. Louis.

In the National League all the teams wait until tonight when, in addition to St. Louis at Philadelphia, it will be Milwaukee at New York, Cincinnati at Brooklyn and Chicago at Pittsburgh.

Supreme Court Disbars Hiss, Refuses Review

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court Monday disbarred from practice before it Alger Hiss, the former State Department official who is serving a prison term for perjury.

It also refused to review Hiss' unsuccessful effort to win a new trial on the perjury charge. The vote in both actions was 6-0, with Justices Reed, Frankfurter and Clark disqualifying themselves.

Reed and Frankfurter testified as character witnesses in Hiss' first trial. Clark was attorney general when Hiss was prosecuted.

Derby Hopefuls Show Stuff In Trial Today

15 Horses Entered, Most of Them Just For the Workout

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Selection of the complete cast for the 79th running of the Kentucky Derby, America's foremost horse-racing spectacle, was expected to be completed today in the mile of the $10,000 Derby Trial at Churchill Downs.

The Trial, dwarfed by the Derby itself in both purse and importance, attracted a field of 15, at least three, and maybe more, than is expected to start Saturday in the mile and one-quarter run for a share in the $100,000 added purse and a garland of red roses.

Owners and trainers of at least six of the Trial nominees are more interested in seeing their horses get in a good workout than winning. Of course, they have no objection to banking the winner's share of the $10,000.

For the other nine, however, the edict is "show something" or stay in your stall Saturday when the bands send the strains of "My Old Kentucky Home" reverberating over the ancient downs before more than 100,000 persons.

The six who need not win or, necessarily, be close, in order to qualify for the big test include Royal Bay Gem, the come-from-behind horse owned by Eugene Constantine Jr., Dallas oil refinery operator.

In fact, trainer Clyde Troutt was outspoken in saying he had entered the Chesapeake Stakes winner in the Trial more for the workout than for the money.

"Of course we would like to win," he said, "but the distance may be too short. Regardless of what he does today he'll be in Saturday's lineup."

The other five who are using the Trial chiefly as a workout are the G. & C. Stable's Money Broker, Edward M. Goemans' Louisiana Derby winner Curragh King, Mrs. J. Payson Adams' English-bred Blue Repeater, Mrs. Ada L. Rice's Mr. Paradise and Mrs. E. E. D. Shaffer's Hit the Spot.

In the group who must prove themselves are Spy Defense, Berseem, Sir Mango, Dark Star, Red Speed, Ram o' War, Thaxter, Warless and Blenriam.

If any of today's field steals the show Saturday from the leading actors, Alfred Vanderbilt's unbeaten Native Dancer and Mrs. Gor-

Harding-Mansfield Game Postponed

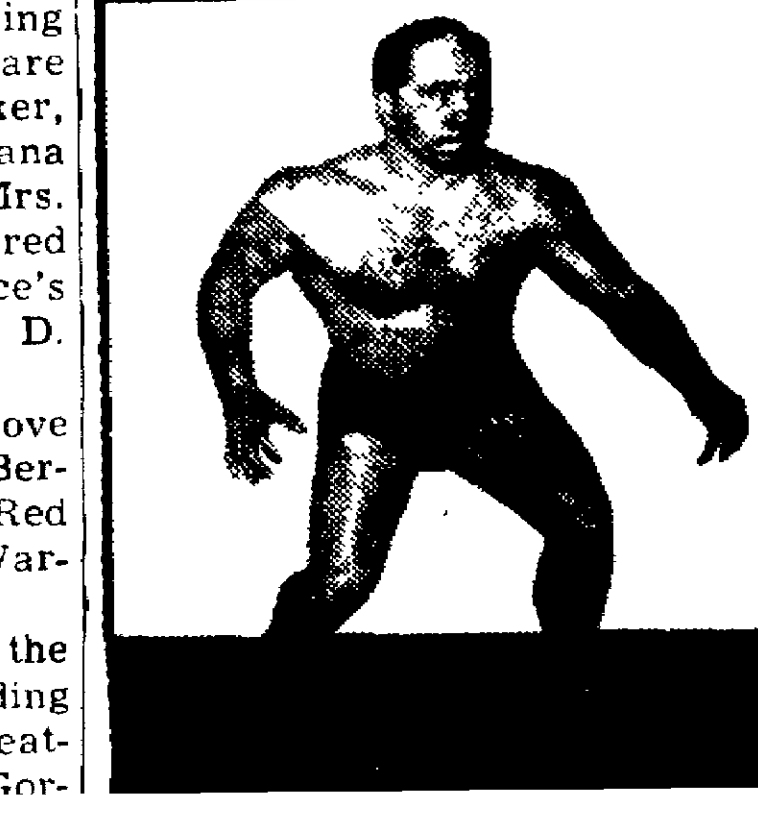

Harding's scheduled baseball game with Mansfield there Monday afternoon was postponed.

Baseball Coach Pete Howison was notified by Mansfield school officials that their diamond was wet and that the weather was cold.

The game has been re-scheduled for May 7 there. Mansfield is scheduled to come here Thursday and Harding is scheduled to make its first start in the Central District Class A Baseball Tournament Friday.

Coach Howison was notified Monday by the tourney chairman that the game with the winner of the Washington Court House-Grandview game at Grandview Wednesday, would be played at Grandview regardless of the outcome of the Wednesday tilt. Earlier it was scheduled to be played at the winner's diamond.

Question Couple

Found With Map

CLEVELAND (AP) — Suburban Rocky River police plan to question a man and woman today about a map of the Elvira Country and they discovered the man was carrying.

The map showed the entire club layout with a particular emphasis on the room where the safe is kept. On top of the map was a note: "No one around after 4 p. m. Mondays."

The man is 29. The woman is 35. Both Clevelanders, they were picked up in connection with the theft of an $85 wrist watch.

The U. S. Bureau of Land Management says the red harvester ant has denuded 90,000 acres of public lands in Wyoming.

Cuyahoga County Officials Facing Robinson Subpena

COLUMBUS, O. (AP) — The prosecutor and commissioners of Cuyahoga County face subpoenas if they fail to accept invitations to testify before the Judiciary Committee of the Ohio House of Representatives.

That was the word today from Committee Chairman Kenneth A. Robinson (R-Marion).

Members wanted the officials to testify at hearings on a proposed state reward of $10,000 for apprehension of vandals who last year smeared paint and grease on the home a former Seabee was building for himself in Cleveland Heights.

witnesses why county commissioners didn't offer a reward. None of them could say.

French Find Cheap Way To Package Frozen Milk

PARIS (UP)—A packaging method described as "capable of revolutionizing the milk distribution industry" by putting whole frozen

A knife-blade scrapes off the quick-frozen milk in a snow-like powder, which is then compressed into cubes and wrapped in ordinary cheap butter paper. The quick freezing process preserves all the qualities of French milk, the inventors said.

It works equally well with raw or pasteurized milk, and the entire milk in packages like butter has been announced by three Frenchmen.

The new system, cheaper to set up than conventional plants for bottling liquid milk and capable of cutting the packaging of a quart from 5.16 francs to one franc (1½ cents to three-tenths of a cent, U. S.), is the creation of a chemist and two engineers who worked in a secrecy-shrouded plant in suburban Juvisy.

"The milk keeps better under our system, too," said Raymond Vermoux, who worked with Filatre de Longchamps and the chemist, Raymond Pochard, on the project. "I kept some in my refrigerator for three months. I gave it to my cat, who was visibly delighted, and she's very hard to please."

Basically, he said, the new system works by first chilling the milk to five degrees centigrade (41 degrees F.), then pouring it in a thin film over the surface of a long turning cylinder that is refrigerated from the inside.
